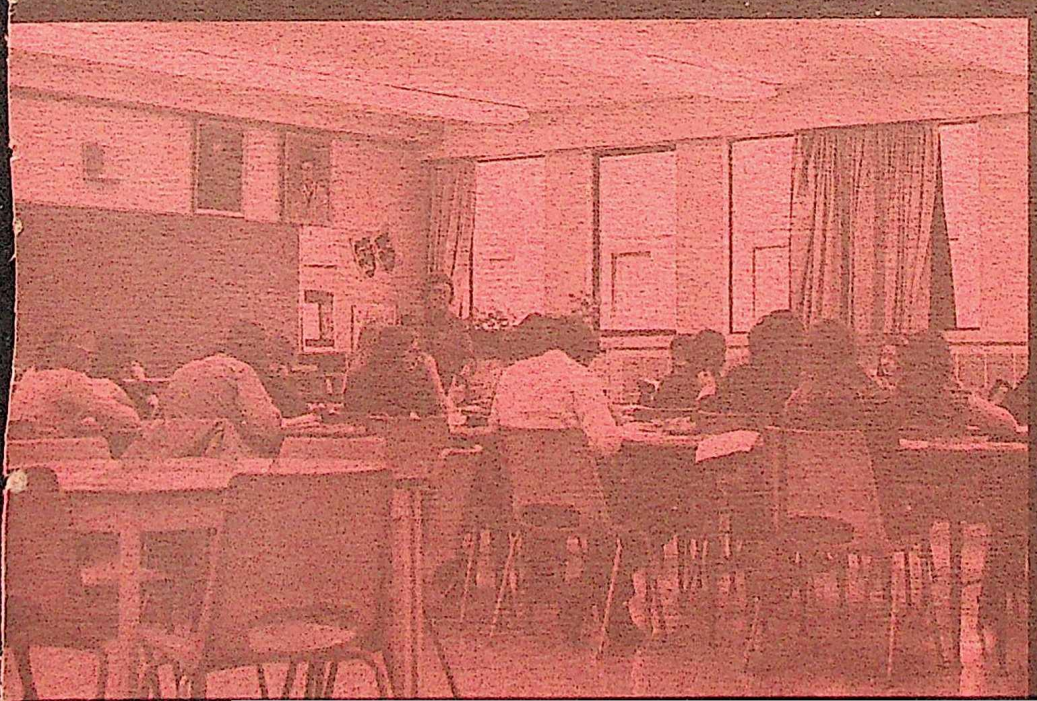
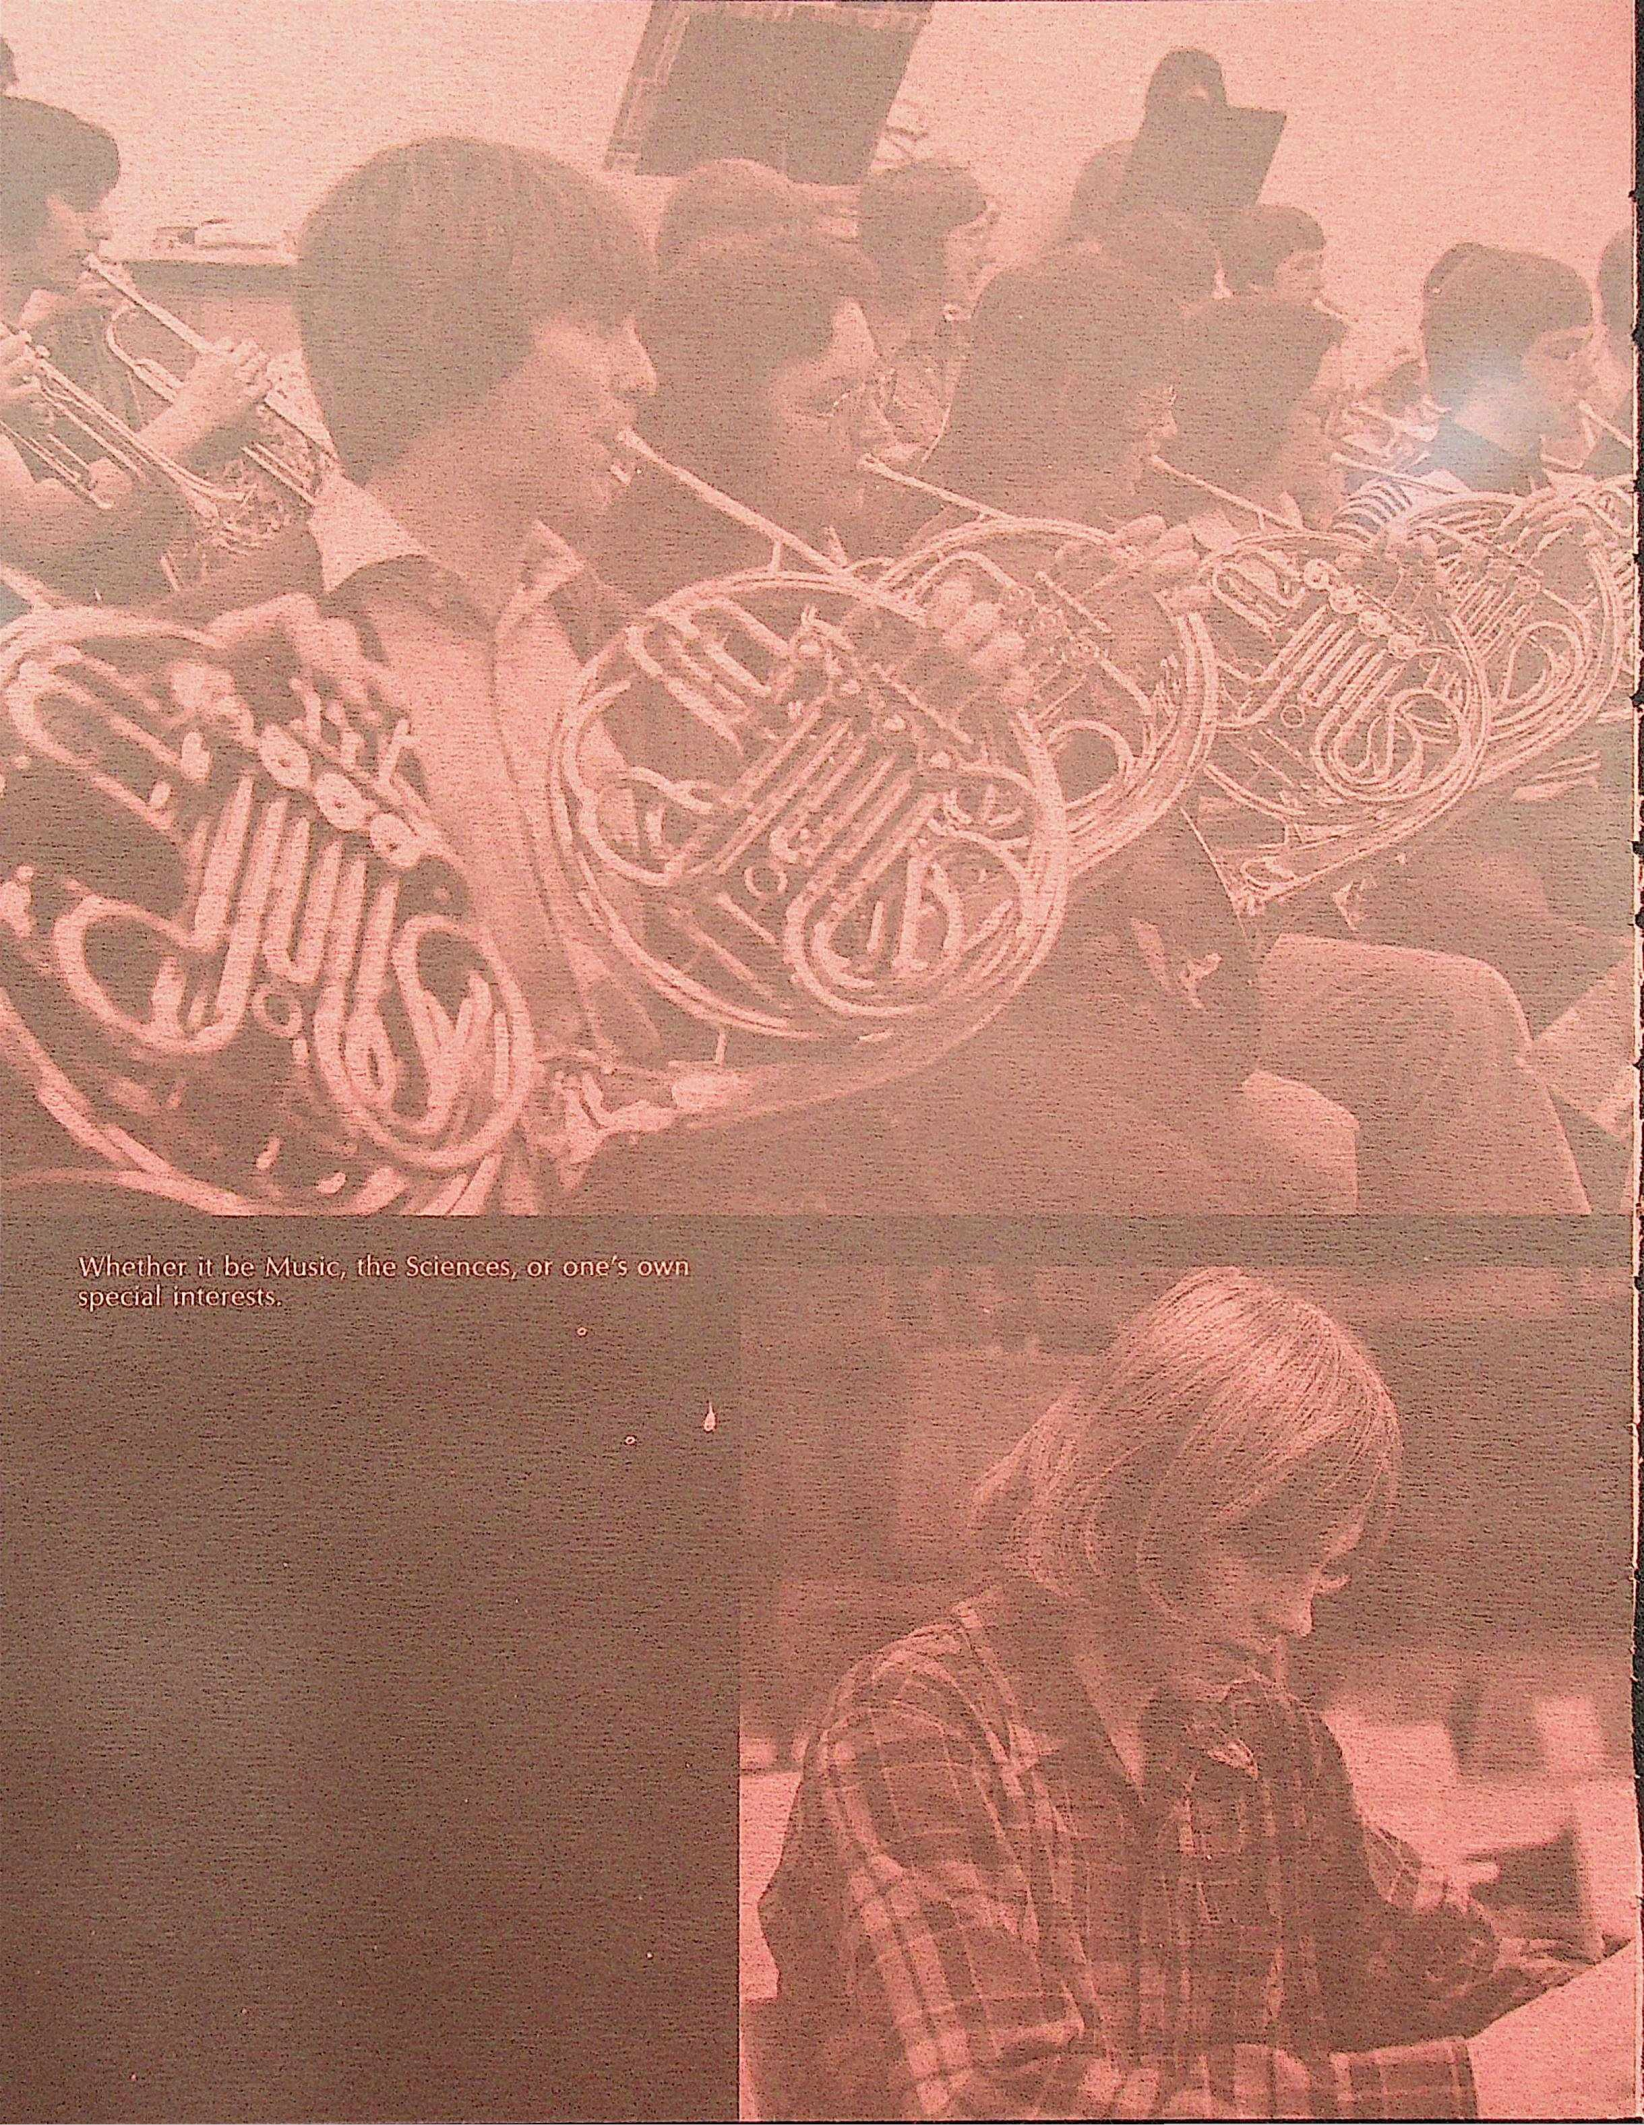
A school is people . . .



. . . people striving for excellence in whatever field they choose.



Whether it be Music, the Sciences, or one's own special interests.

Ten years have come and gone since McNally first made its appearance on the south bank of the North Saskatchewan river. Those ten years have been memorable ones for the faculty and students who worked together within its halls.

Like the meandering river below the school, the current of thought and behavior at McNally has constantly been changing, surging, rising, and ebbing.

The years, like successive bends in the river's course, have brought new and unexpected adventures — some happy, some serious, some thought-provoking. But all educational in the broad sense of the word.

Some (a minority) have let the years slip by unproductive . . . some have used the school as a stepping stone to university or tech or a rewarding career in a variety of endeavors. Some of course, are still here, and even now are sifting, assimilating and synthesizing ideas and experiences.

It might be an over simplification to say that a school is all things to all people. It is both a parent and a church; a government and a society; a business and a career; a campus and a park; and entertainment source and a health spa. More than that, it is a place where lasting friendships are formed, where minds are shaped and personalities are made.

A great deal of picking and choosing is essential for each individual to get the maximum for himself from his school or any school, but as a rule those who drink longest and deepest are those who drink best.

It is the hope of the yearbook committee that some of the more unique and memorable facets and nuances of "the school" in all its fullness can be seen and appreciated through this annual.

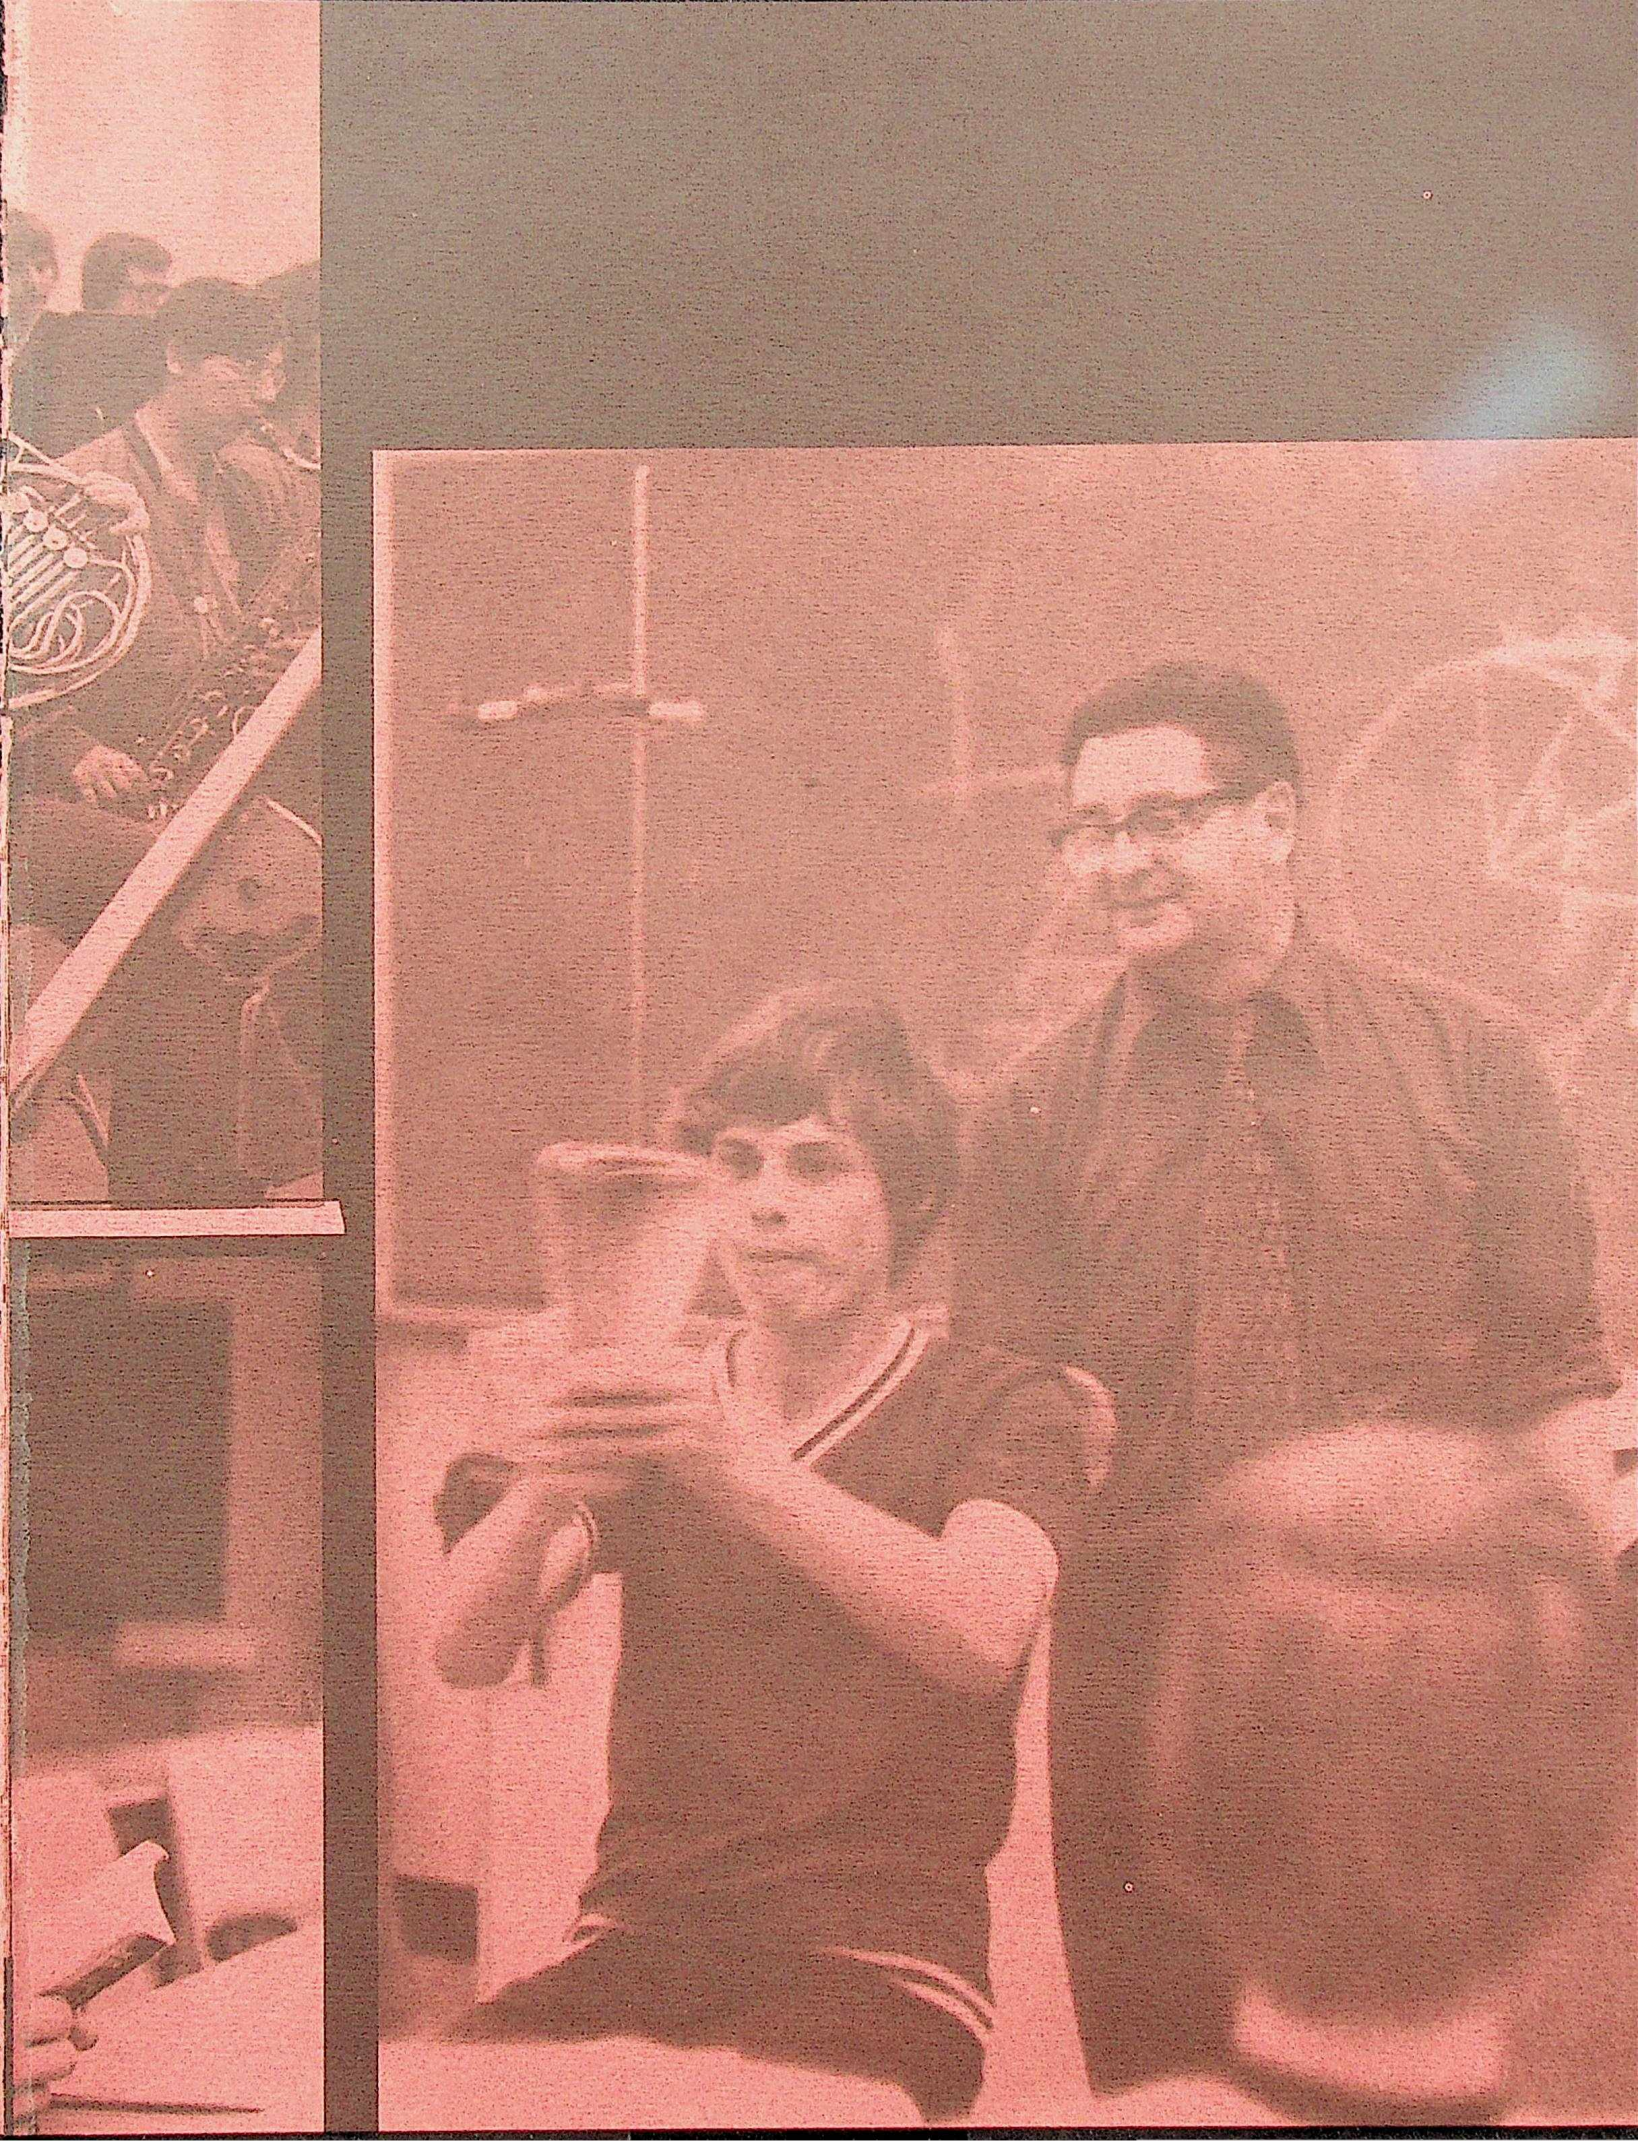
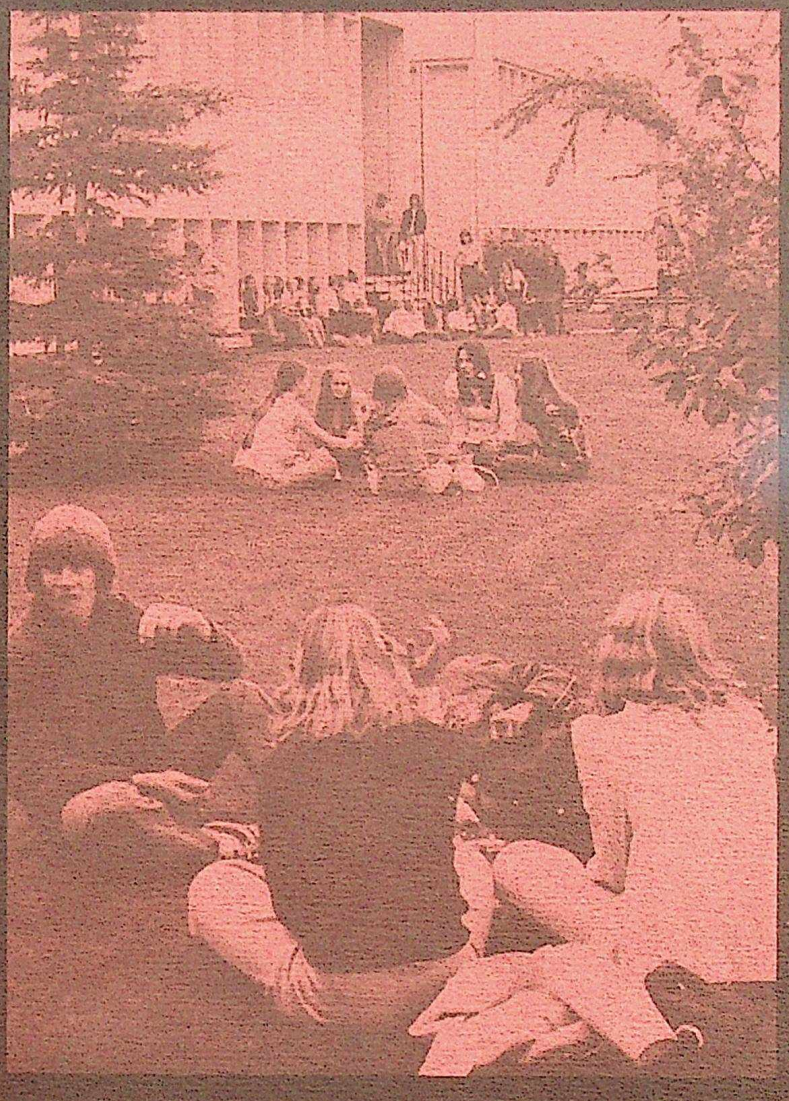
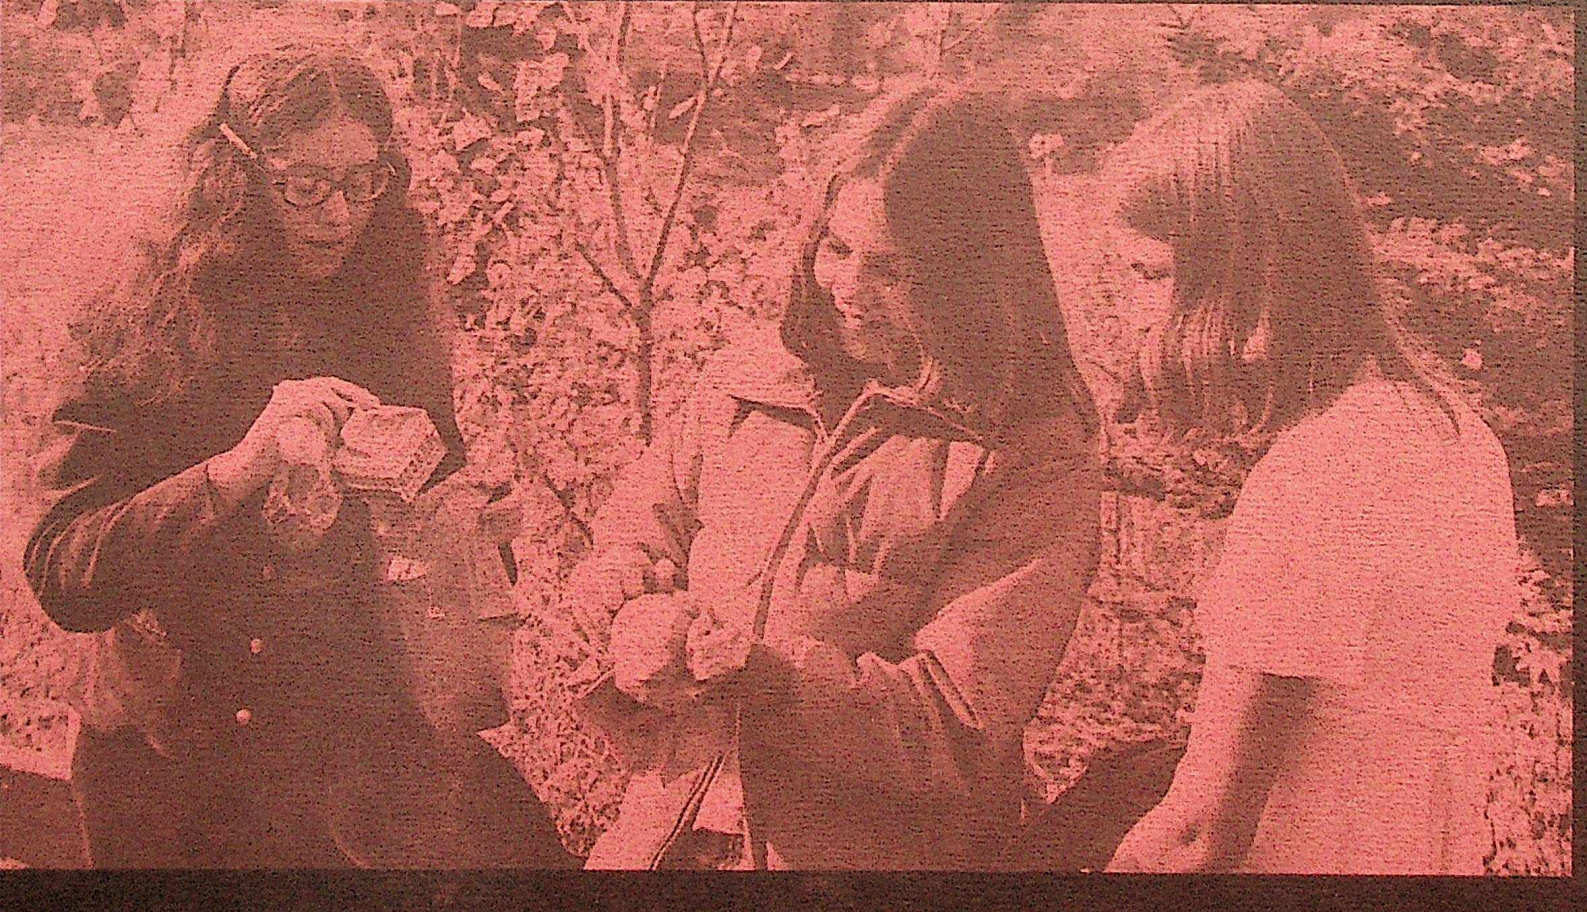
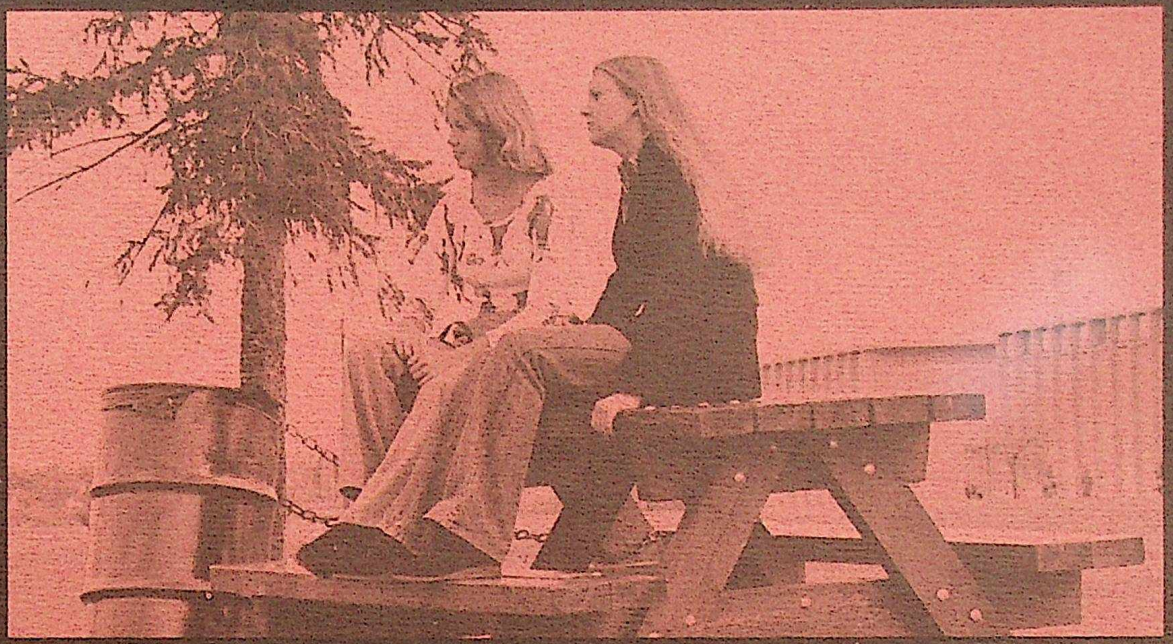
What is a school?

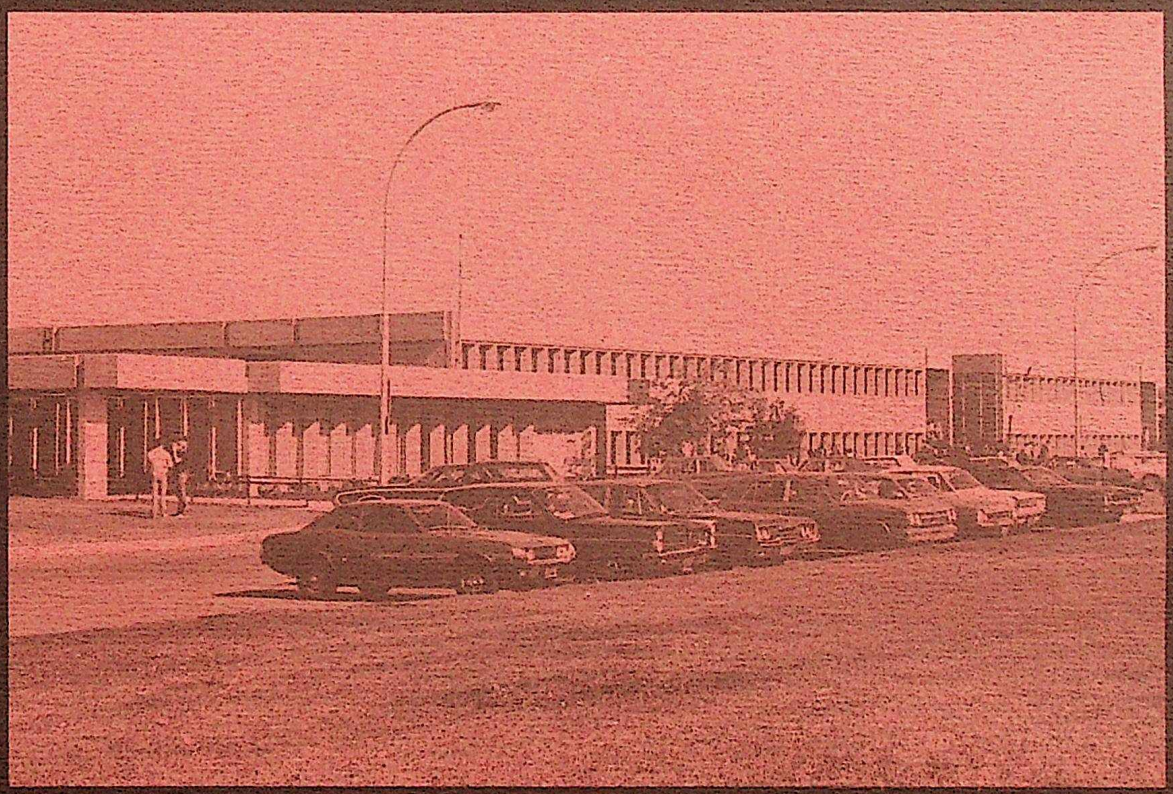




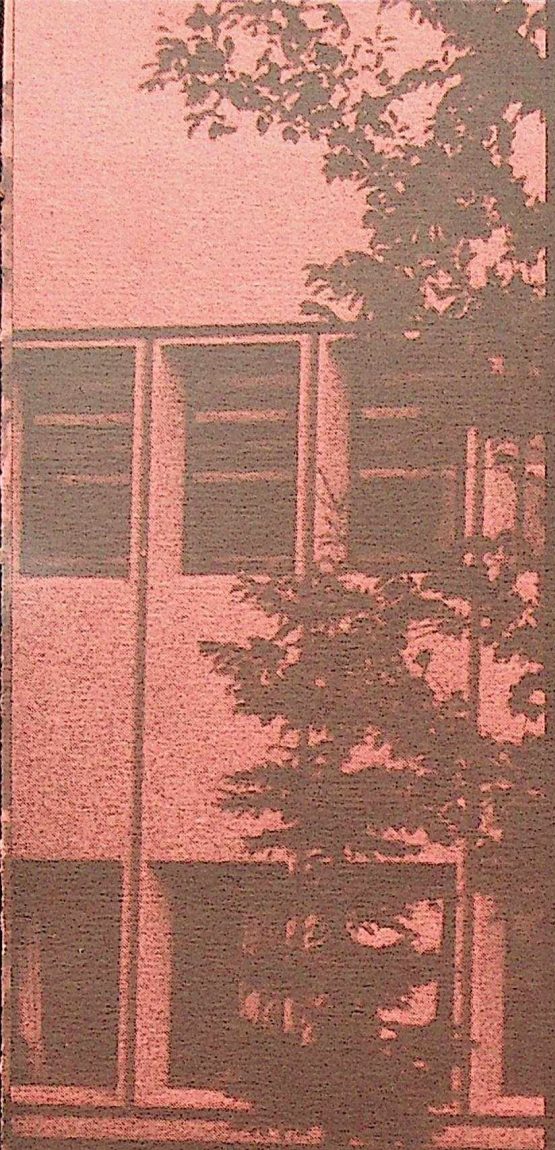


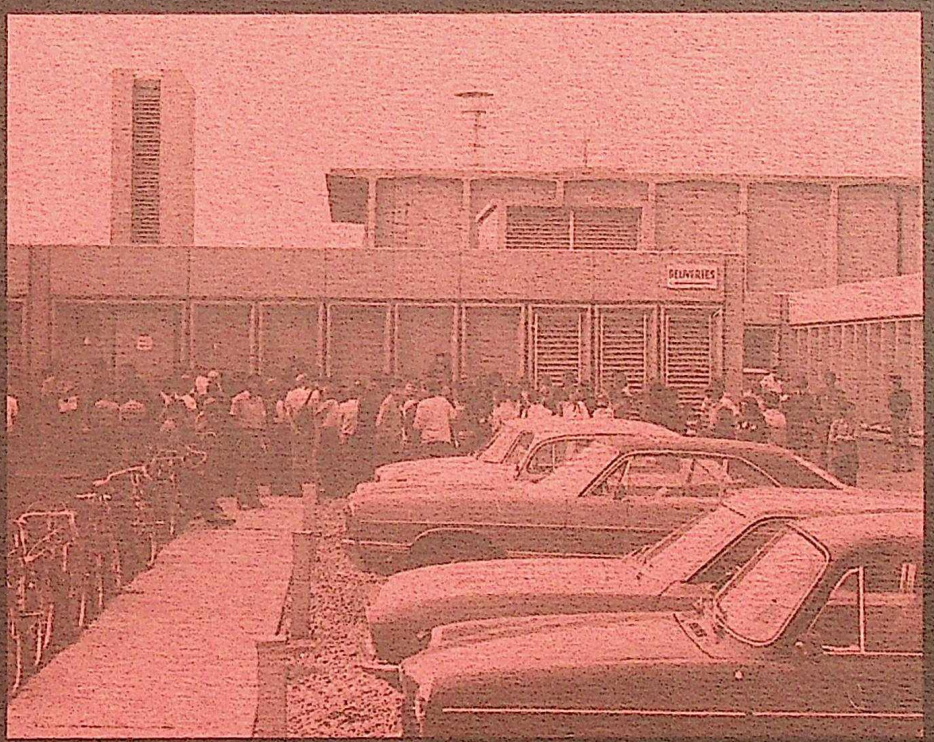
It's people, be they in groups or by themselves.





People, relating to their surroundings . . .





Whether taking part as a single entity or as part of the whole . . .

. . . joining in the feeling and spirit of the school.

But a school is also a building. Named after G. Fred McNally, one of Alberta's most distinguished educators, it was built ten years ago of prefab concrete slabs.

The first stage of the construction was completed in a matter of months; four years later, an arts wing and a new library were added.

Administration and Guidance

Ten Years Later: A Brief Historical Review

Exactly ten years ago, the grade twelves of 1966 became McNally's first graduating class, and on the tenth anniversary of the event I take pride in looking back over some of the landmarks since that time.

McNally first opened its doors in the fall of 1964, but to grades ten and eleven only, a fact which allowed one year for the resolution of the many problems facing the fledgling high school before becoming fully operational. The facilities provided for a cafeteria, one gym, a small library, three science laboratories, some Business Education rooms, one Art room, one Drama room (unfurnished), one Music room, but no Biology laboratory space, no Industrial Arts rooms, no Household Economics room, and no smoking areas. From a staff of about twenty teachers, and an enrolment of approximately four hundred, McNally expanded steadily for the next three years to more than seven hundred students. In 1968 a large addition was opened and within a year the enrolment shot up to 1300, continued to skyrocket to over 1500 to 1971, then gradually receded to our present 1300 again.

The history of McNally in ten short years since its first graduating class has been colorful, eventful and exciting. Over the years, many fine people, both students and teachers, have made it so. I feel it is fitting that in this issue of our school chronicle, The Trend, I should pay tribute to all those who have contributed a great deal of themselves to the life of their school. Without them, McNally could not be the school community to which all of us have a strong sense of loyalty and pride.

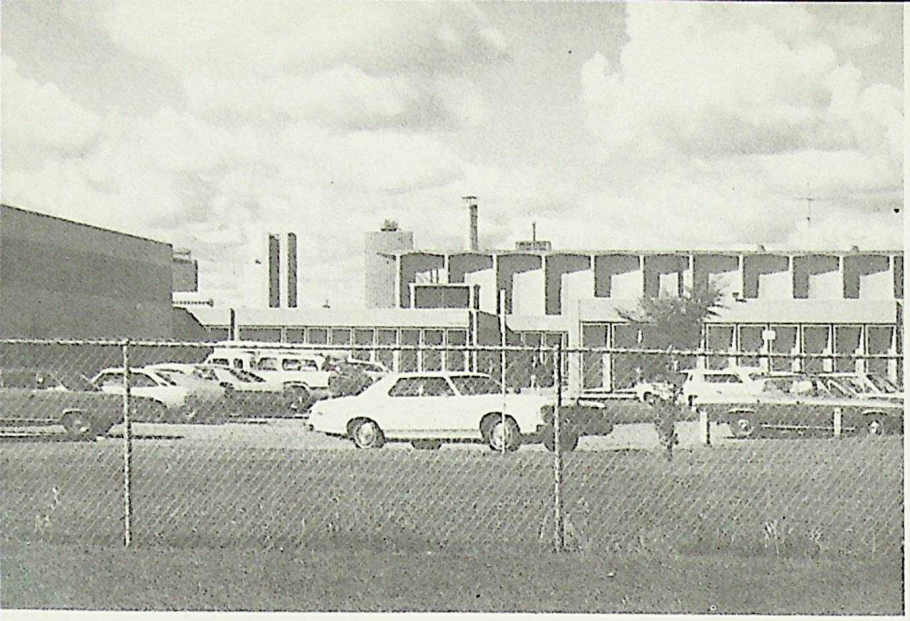
ACTIVITIES



The teachers arrive

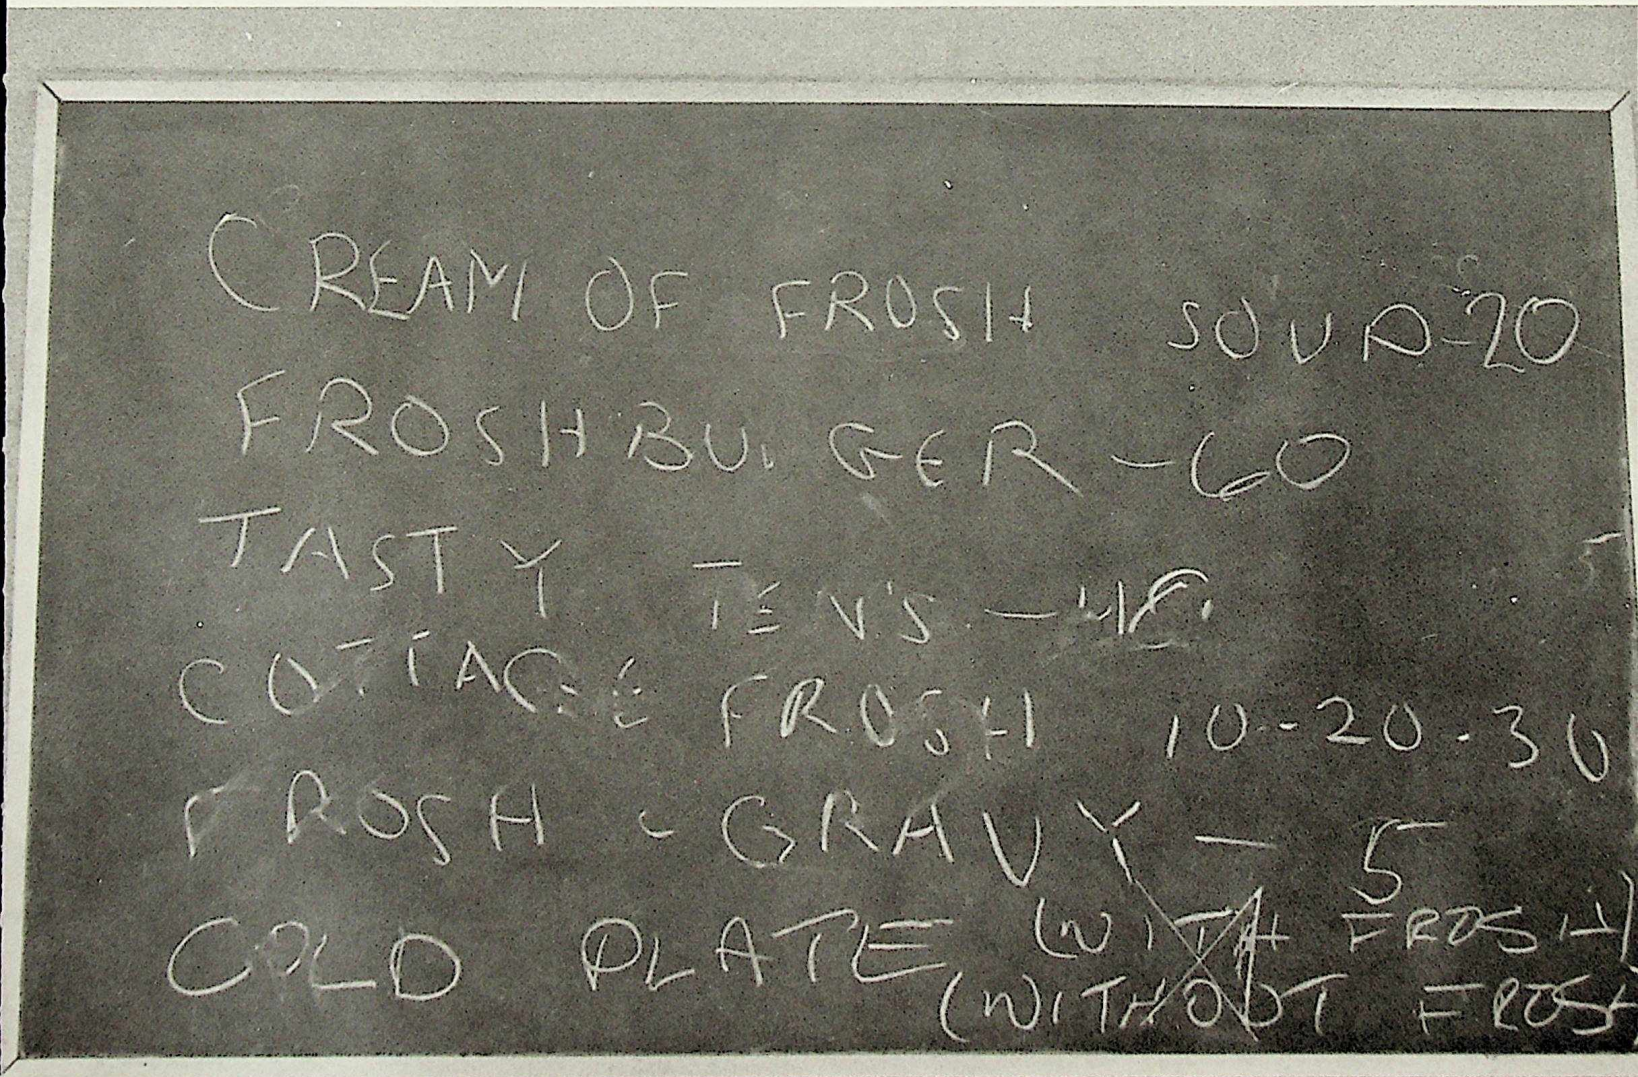
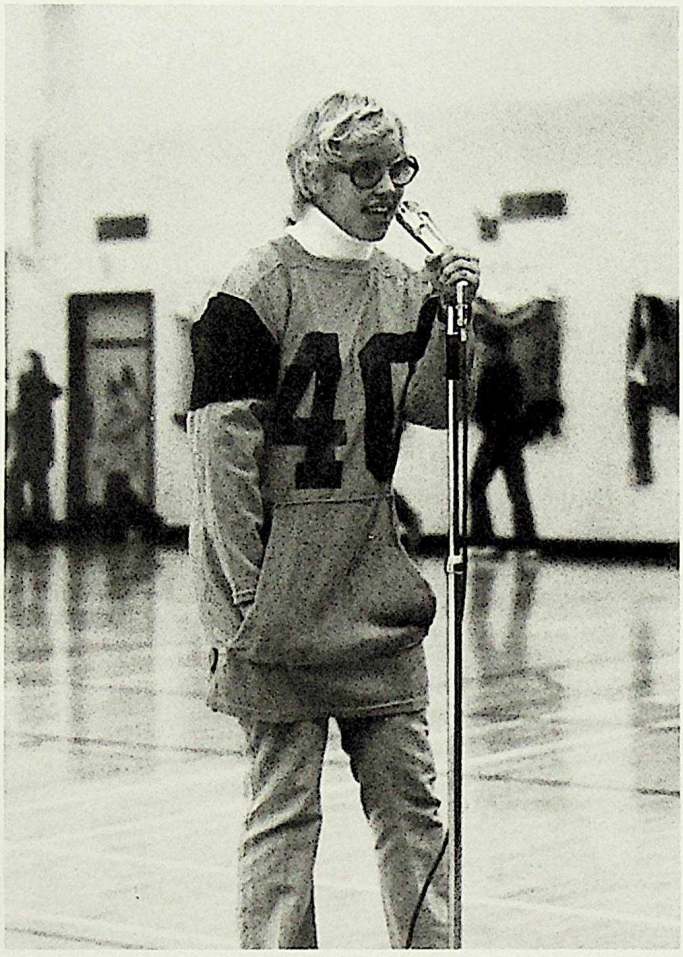
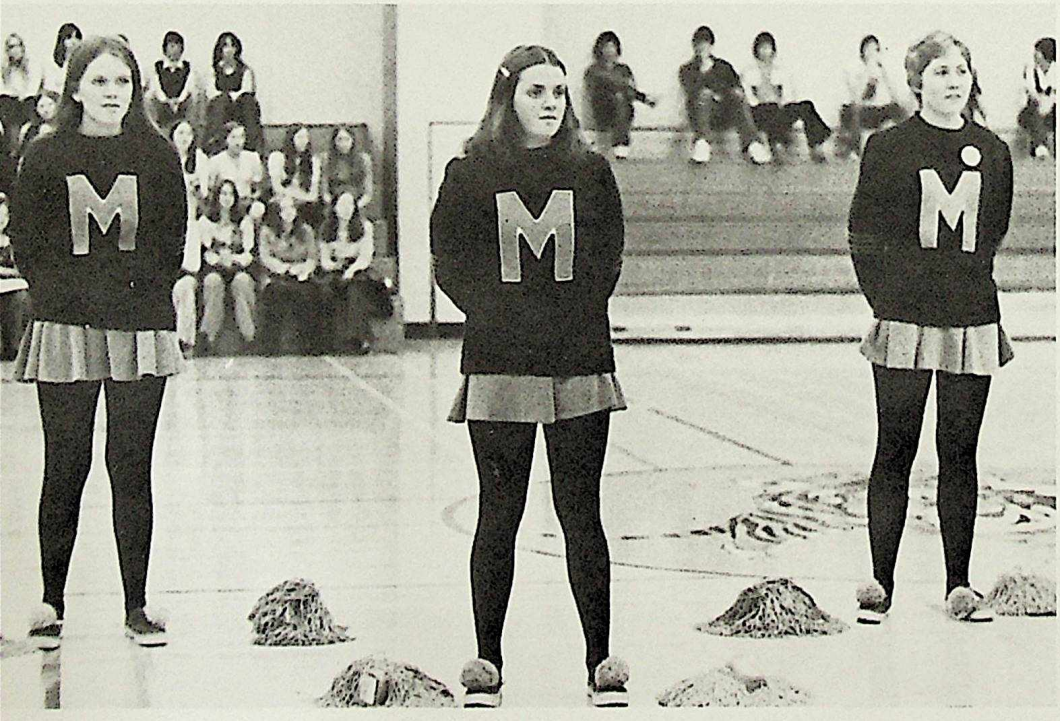
the students arrive and so begins the tenth year of activities at McNally. It brings new experiences for all, especially the Frosh . . .

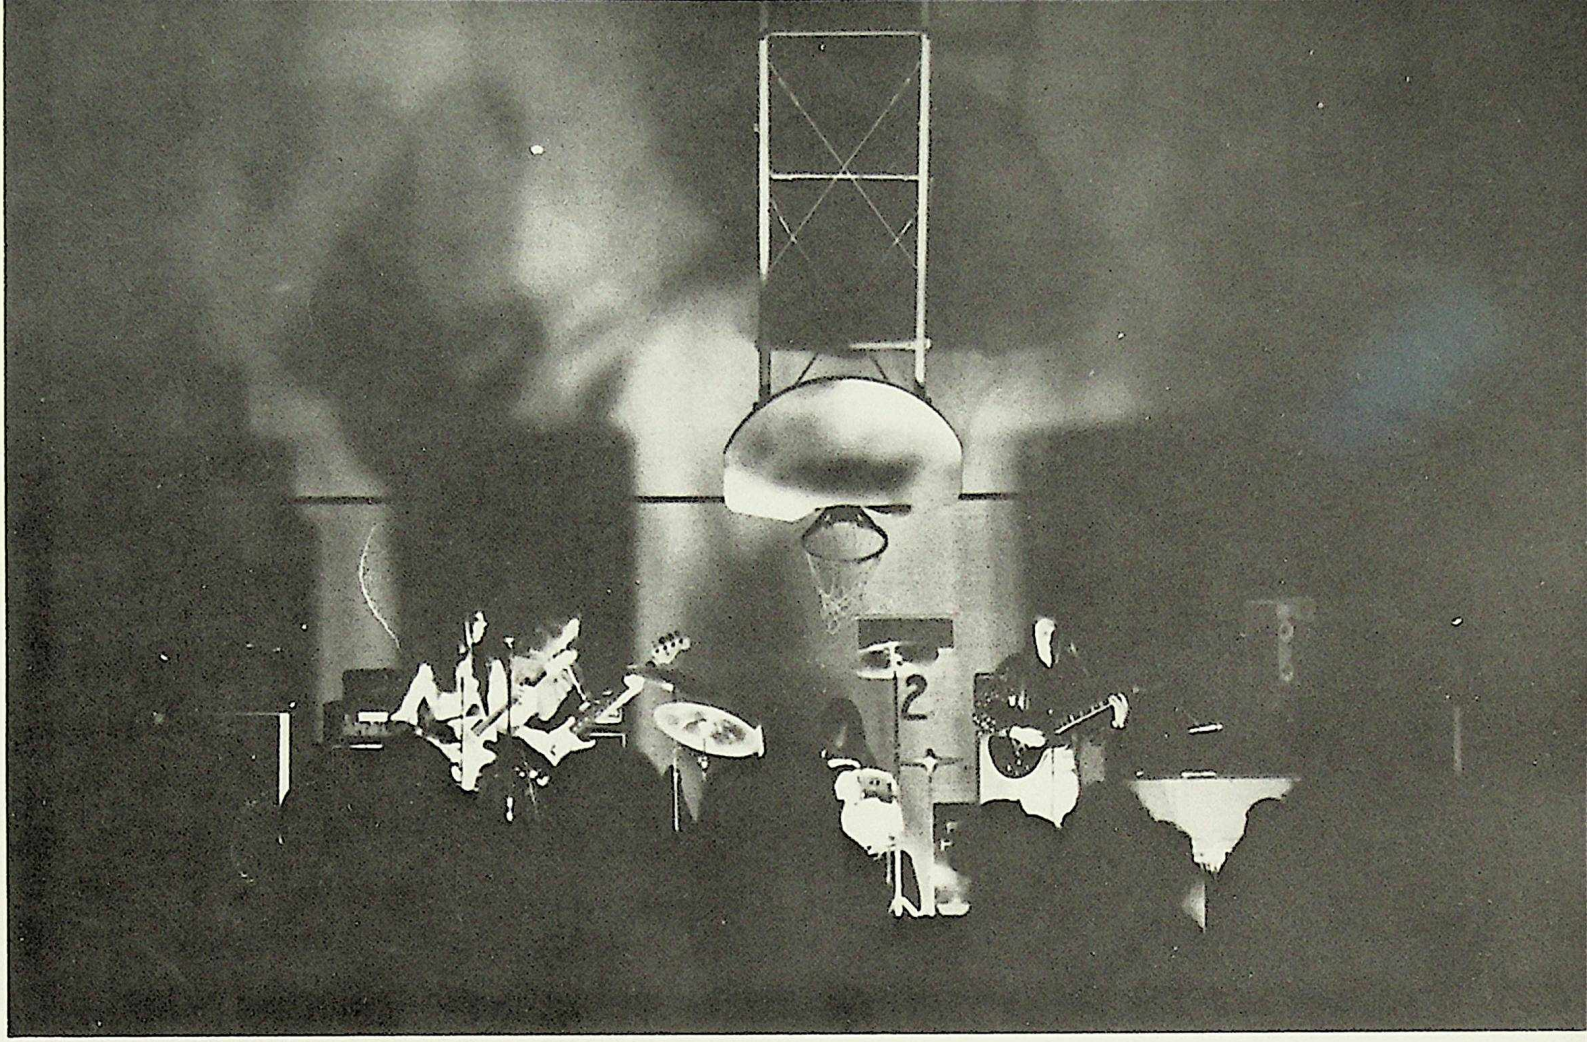


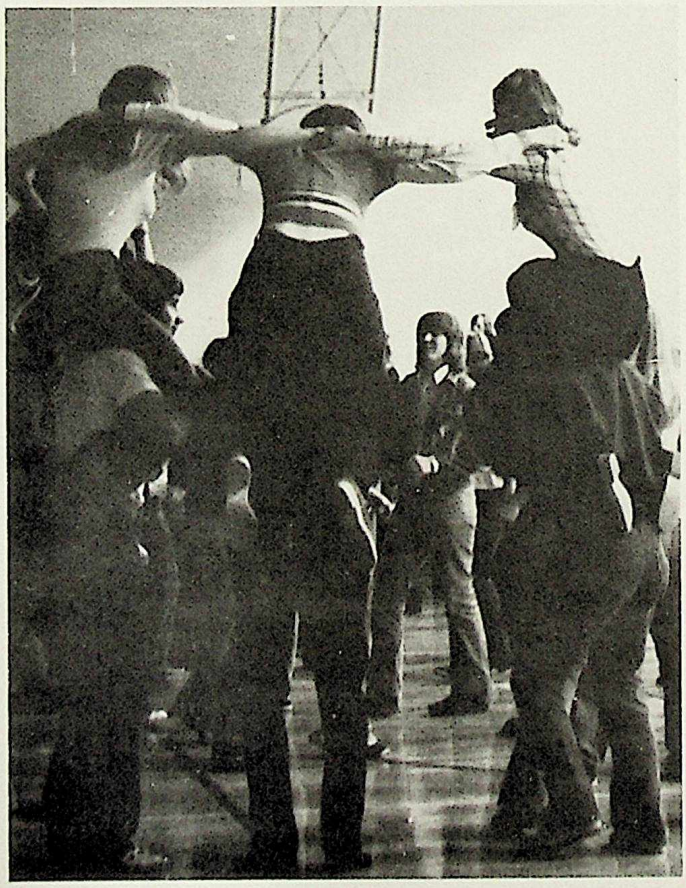
FROSH



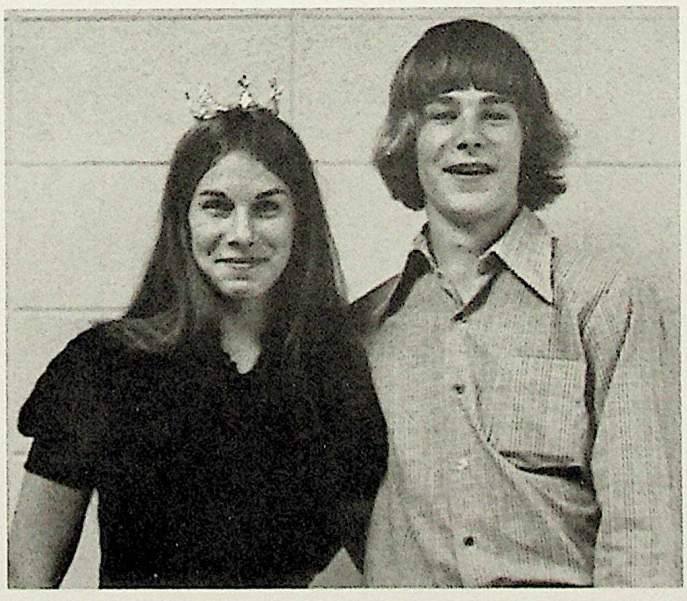


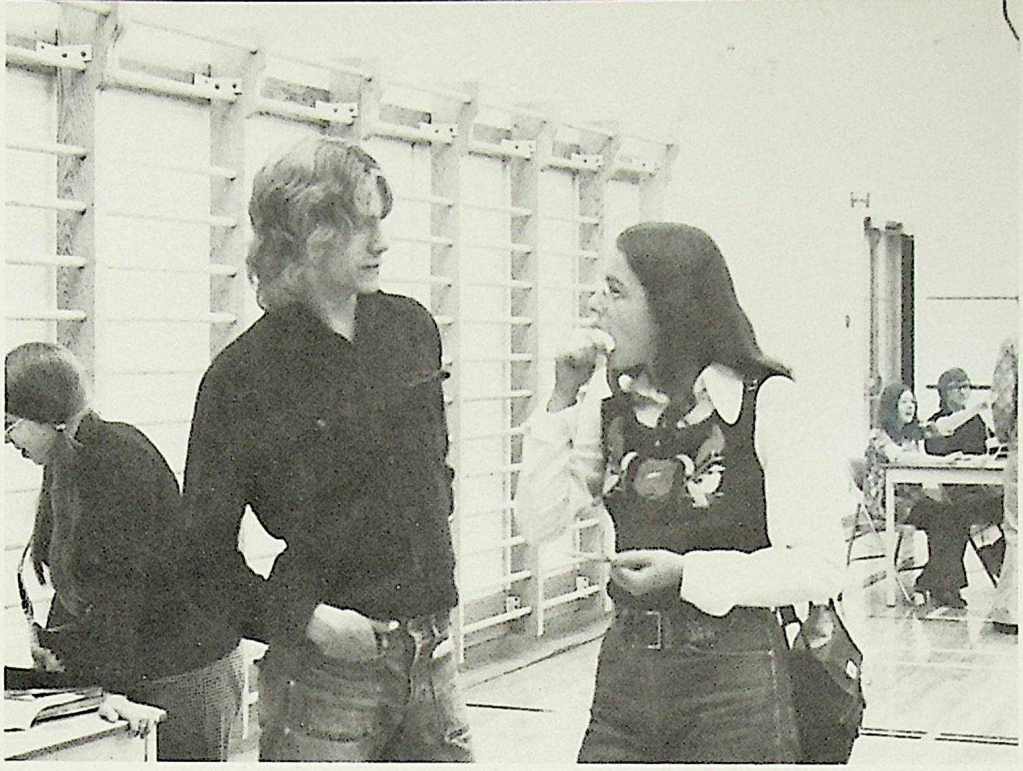
The Frosh were welcomed by the annual Pep Rally which introduced the Students' Union as well as the Cheerleaders to the tens. Those in attendance also met some of the teachers though they may have been hard to recognize in their riding attire — that is, their trike riding attire. The trike race completed an enjoyable noon hour that got everyone in the mood for the dance later that night.



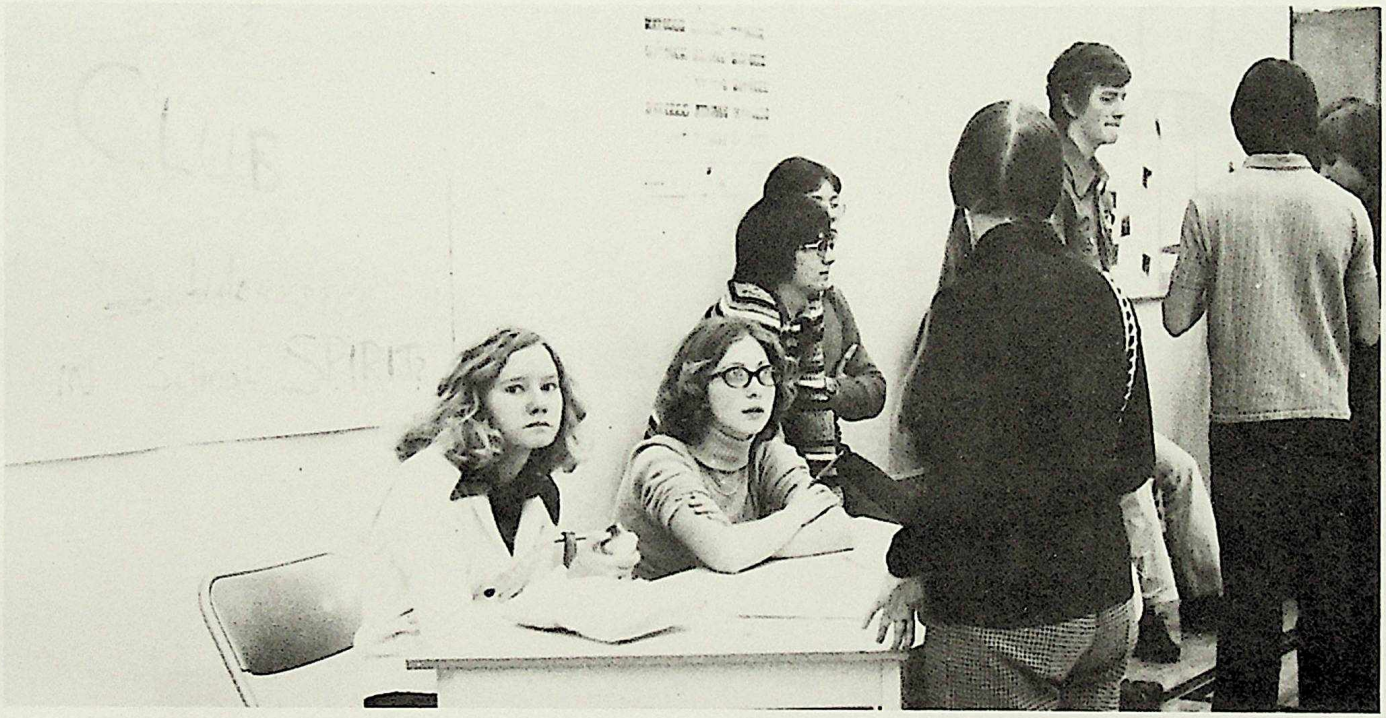


The band Kinlock provided the music for the Frosh dance. During the evening the crowning of the Frosh Queen, Sue Redford, and Frosh King Wilf Nikolaj took place. A grand time was had by all who attended.





What are you going to join?



During the first few weeks of school, Clubs Day was held. It gave the Grade tens and others interested, the chance to join up, helping to promote school spirit as well as pass the time. The displays were excellent and throughout the year the clubs provided many hours of enjoyment for everyone.

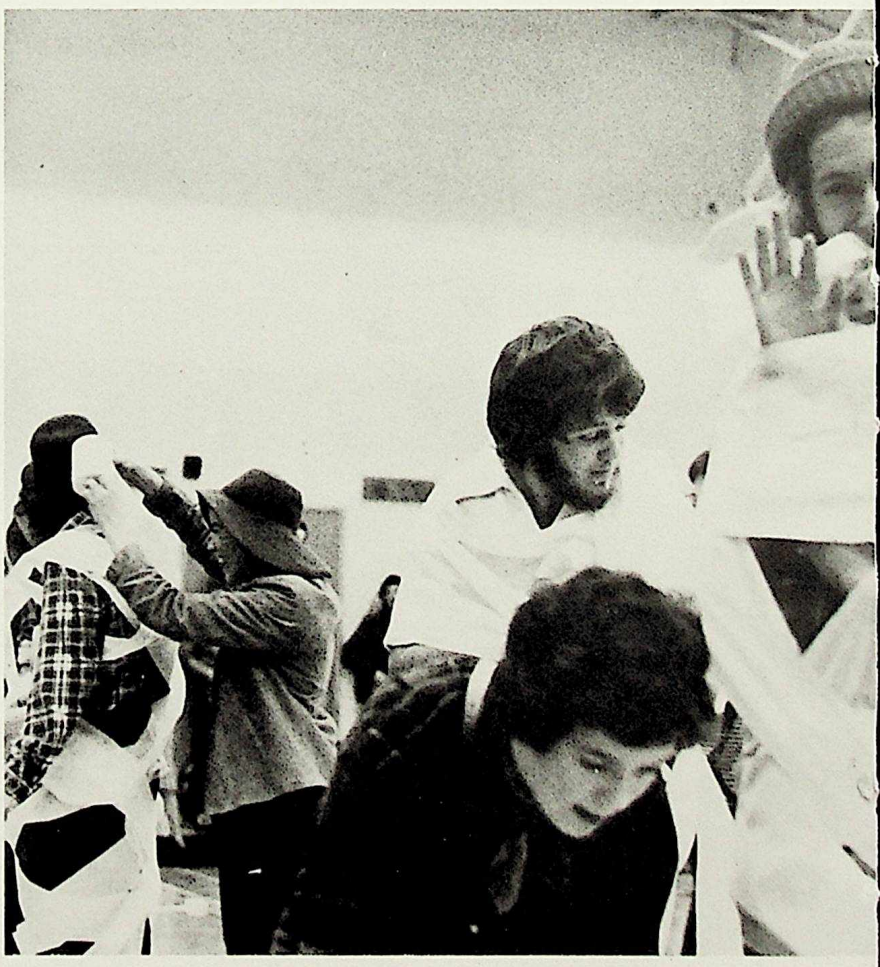
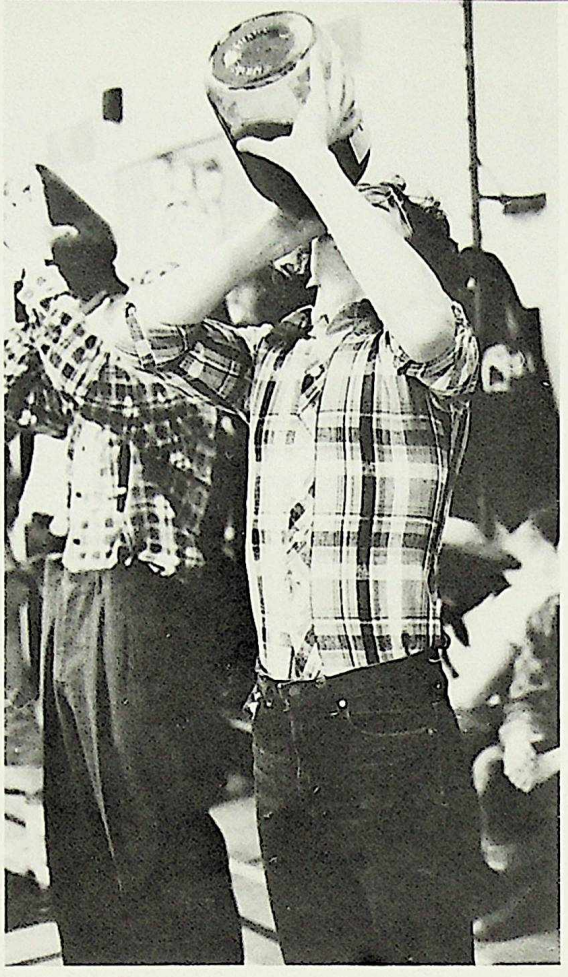
SADIE HAWKINS DAY

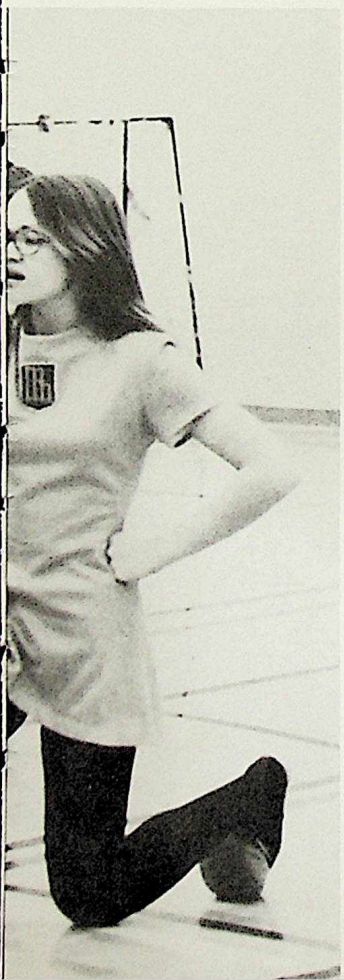


Good-bye



The date was November 15, 1974. It was that time of year again when girls got their chance to get their man — Sadie Hawkins Day. The action started at noon hour, with the Sadie chicks "tying up", or better yet, wrapping paper around their good-natured victims. The winners got, you guessed it, another roll of paper. Other events included a squat dance, chug-a-lug and a tug-of-war which featured the girls breaking the rope. That evening, the girls sprung for one of the more expensive dances in McNally's ten year history, as Chilliwak performed for record crowds.

I don't care if we are buddies, Gus, get your hand off me!

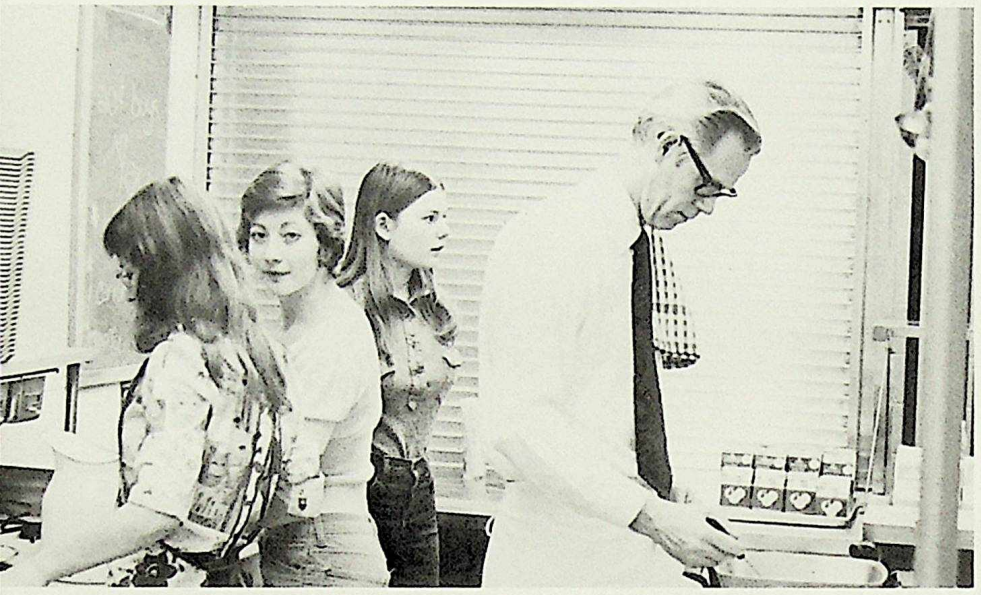


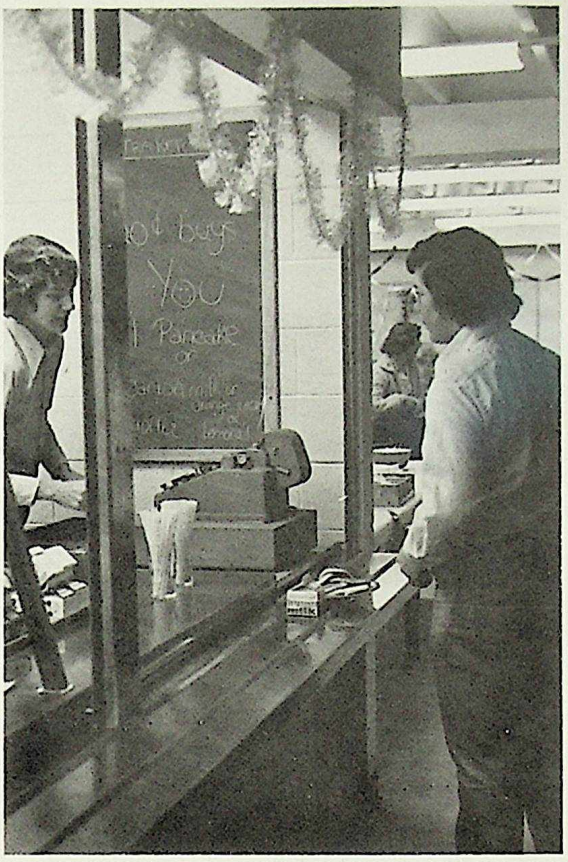
Junior Cheerleaders

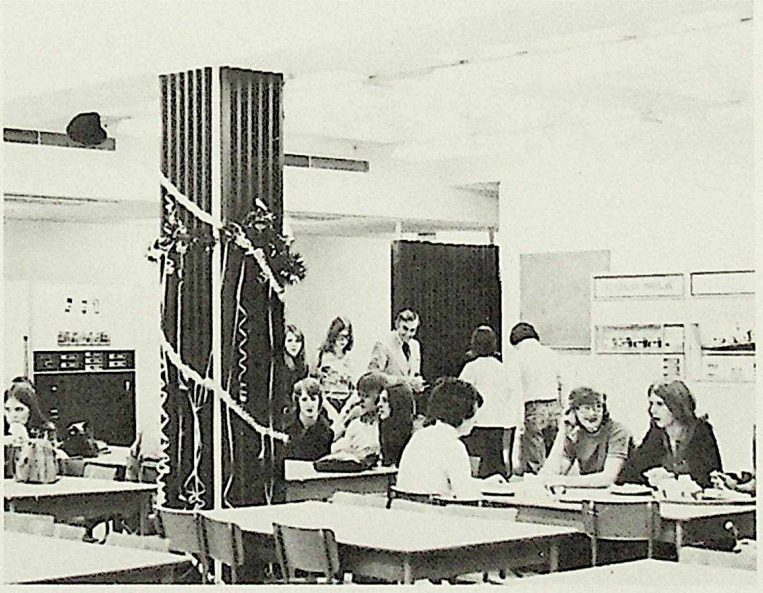
As we look back on the memories, despite the problems, the year was a good one. It was our junior tigers, coaches and loyal fans that kept us cheering our very best. This year we placed third among the other senior squads at the Red Deer competition. Good Luck next year!

Standing: Jane Watson, Darlene Jede, Chris Stretch. Front Row: Georgia Fletcher, Cheryl Zrobek, Candy Prymus, Mandy Tate, Janice Frauenfeld, Linda Faddy.

GRAD COUNCIL'S



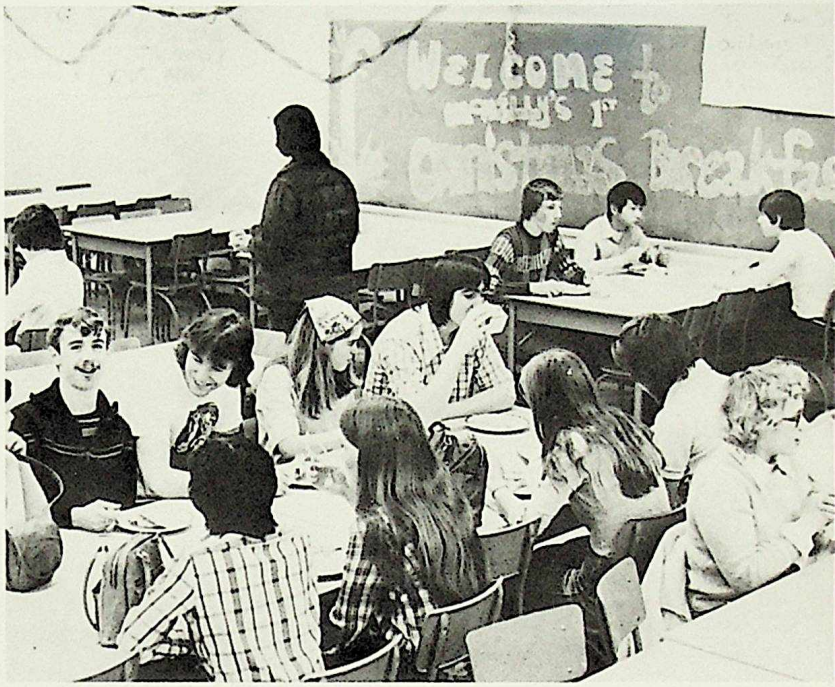


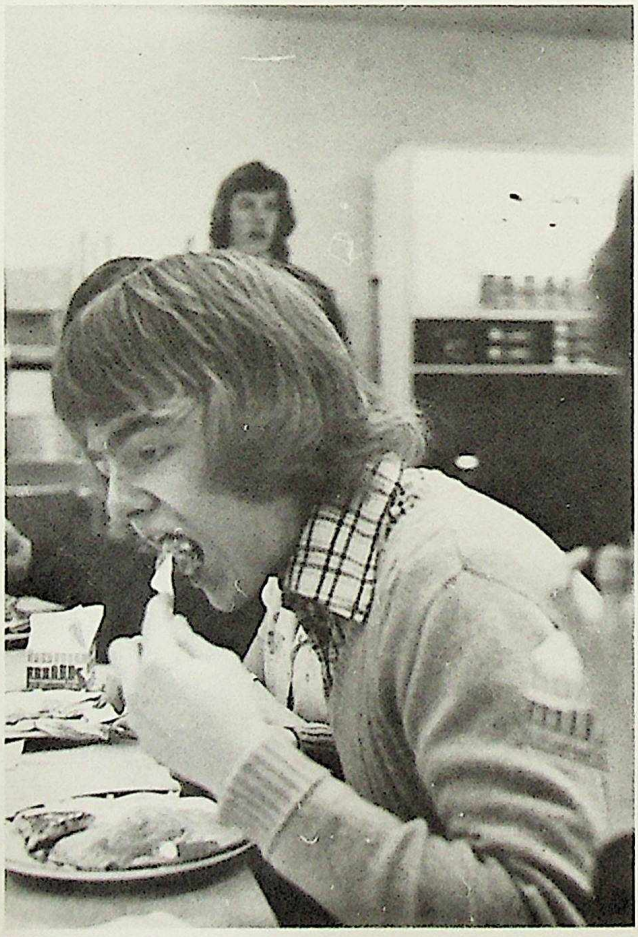


What better way to start our Christmas Lit day 1974 than to attend a Christmas breakfast. This was the idea behind the Pancake Breakfast sponsored by the Grad Council. It began at 7:30 a.m., with the organizers arriving at six o'clock. This first annual breakfast was well attended and enjoyed by all, including some of the teachers who got a chance to try their hand at flipping the products.

Do you think it's safe?

PANCAKE BREAKFAST



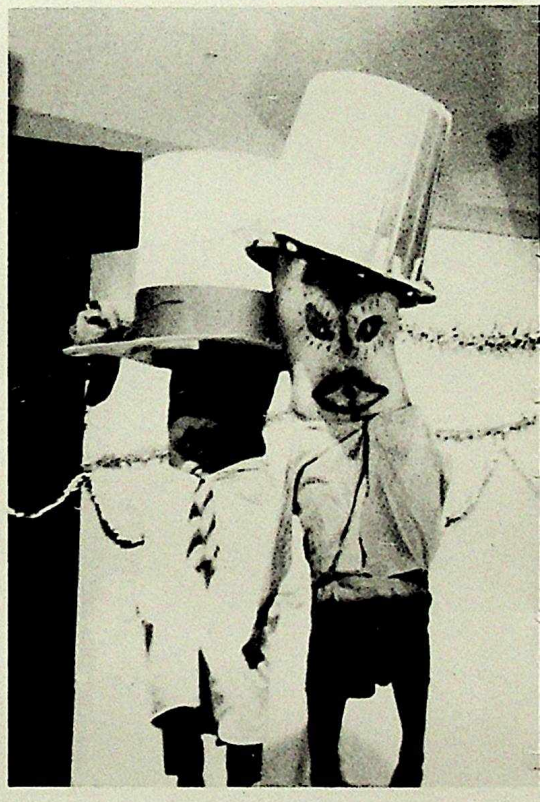


Not only did patrons get a delicious meal, but they were entertained as well. Christmas carolers got a chance to sing, accompanied by the piano in the corner. The breakfast concluded with Santa, who was in fine, though somewhat lumpy form, making the draw for the door prize.

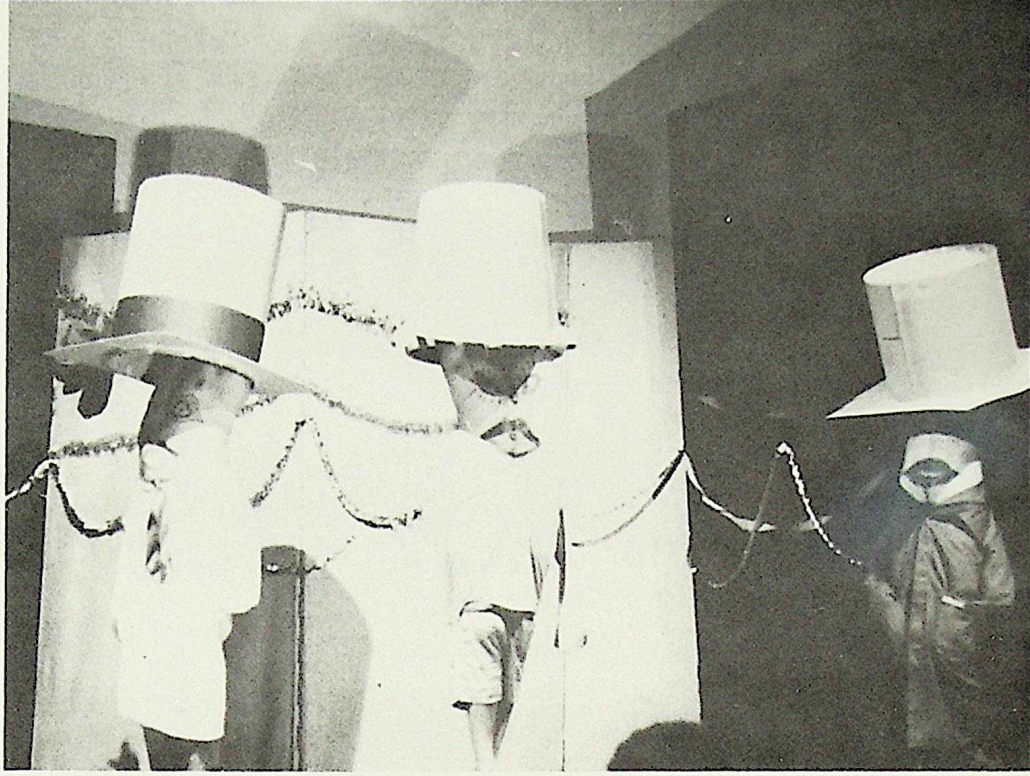
And the winner is . . . .

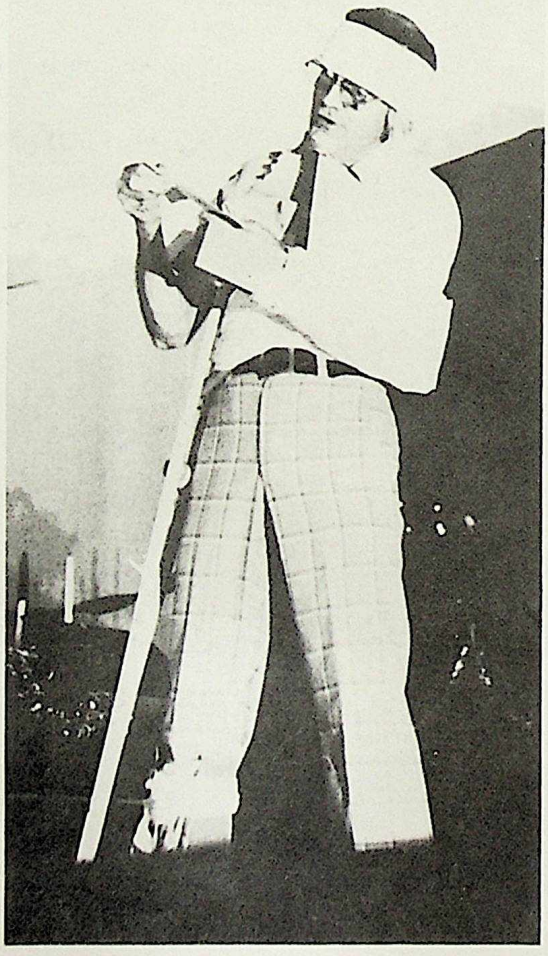
CHRISTMAS LIT

Following the Christmas Breakfast came the Lits. First on the program was the Drama Club, with a play called "Green Christmas", a farce based on the commericialism of the season. Next, the Students' Union did a skit. The Junior Cheerleaders did an enjoyable scene about the perils of a director. The teachers contributed two entries, one by Mr. Kendricks with a message for holiday funseekers, and another by that talented bunch in the arts wing. The morning concluded with the Senior Cheerleaders doing their rendition of the "Miss McNally Tiger 1975" contest. A perfect end to a terrific morning.

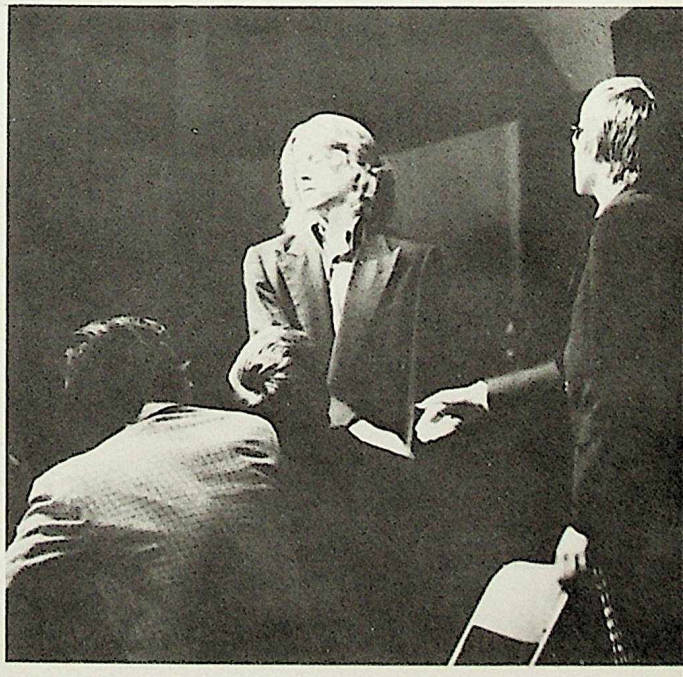


The teachers did their bit. That's Mr. Kendricks under those bandages. It's hard to say whose under those hats!



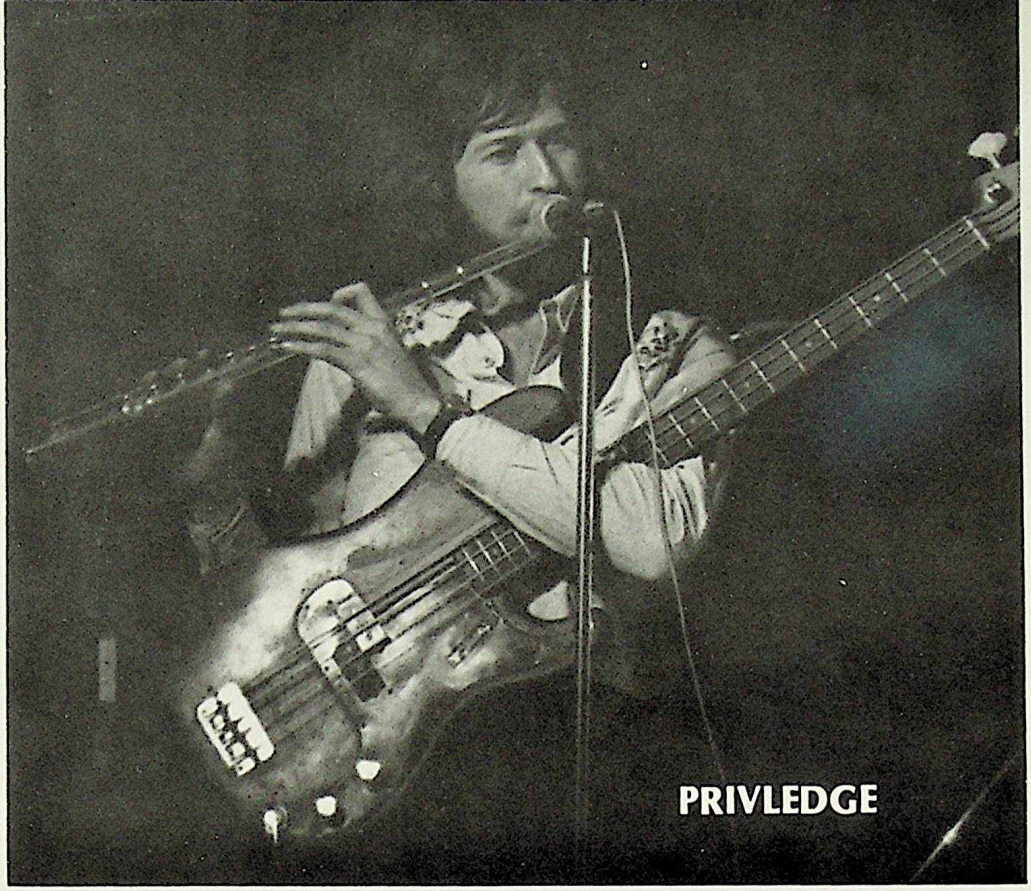


The Drama Club had a Scrooge, plus other weird characters in their presentation.

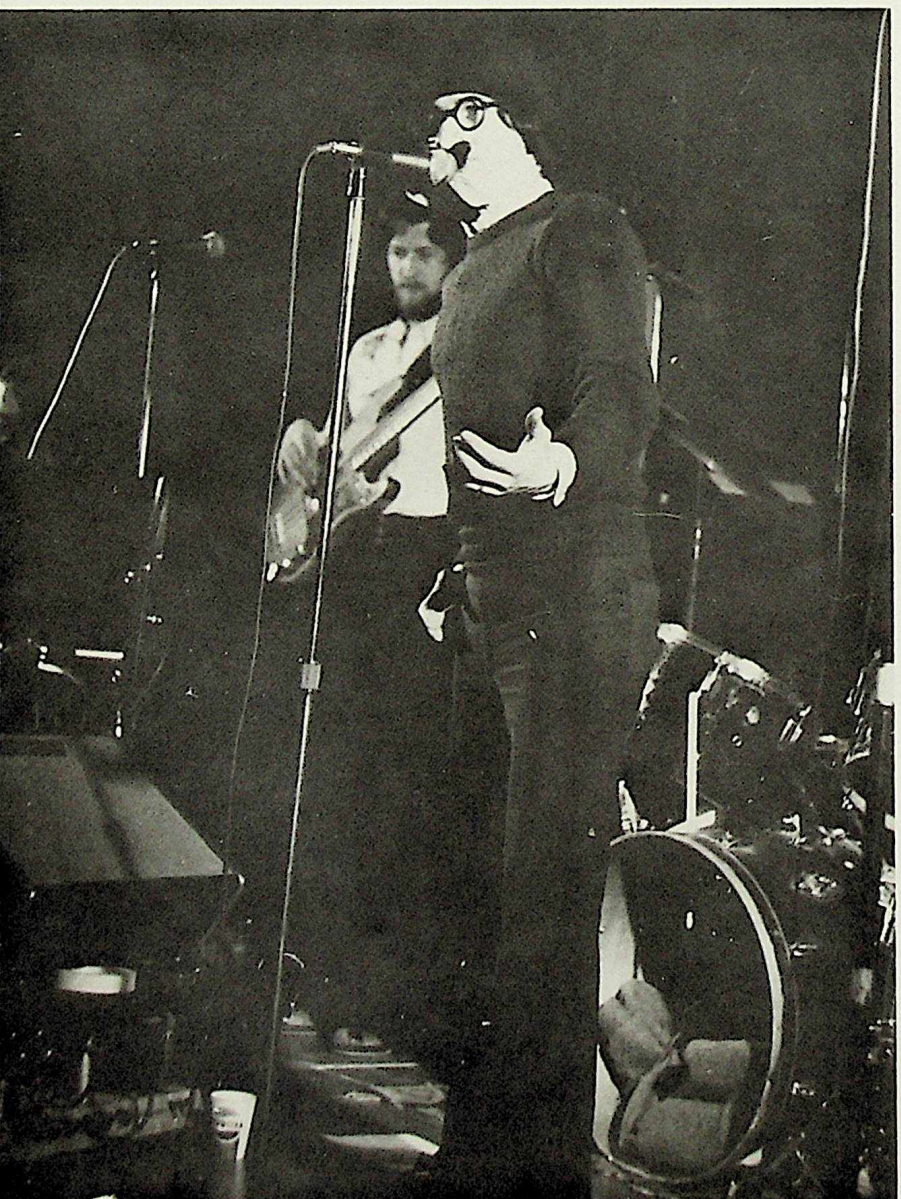


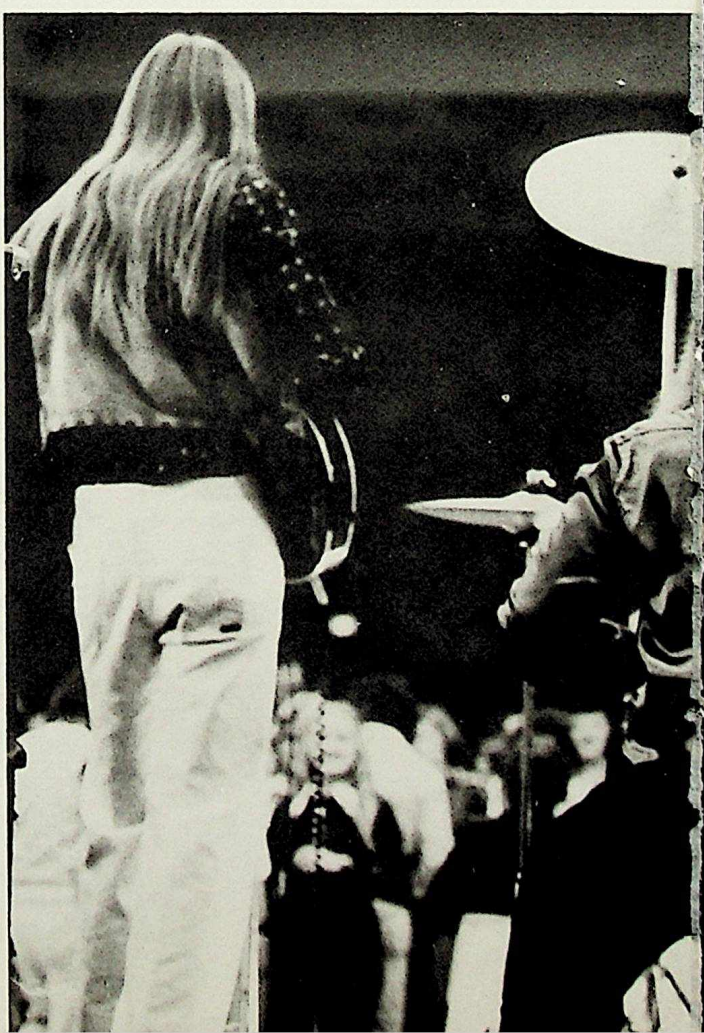
DANCE BANDS

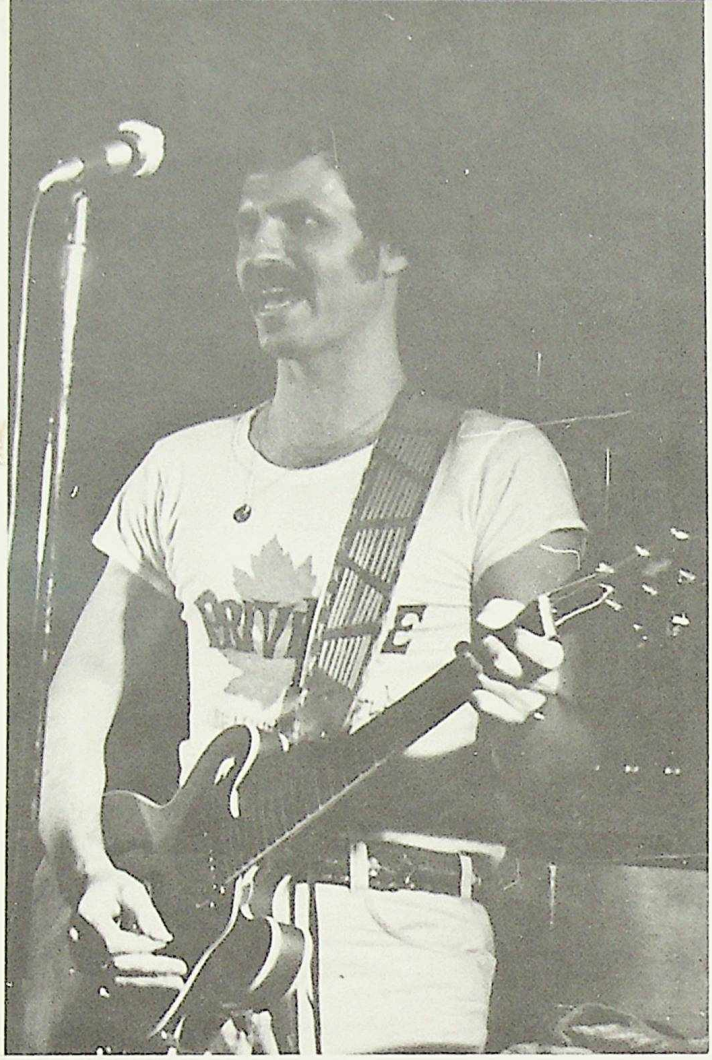
McNally was very fortunate in its tenth year to have two top name bands play for our main dances. The Sadie Hawkins Dance featured Chilliwack, a top Canadian group from Vancouver. February was the month for the now annual Grease Dance. An Edmonton group, the terrific Privledge, provided the music we boogied to. Both dances had capacity crowds and all students and non-students alike had a memorable time.

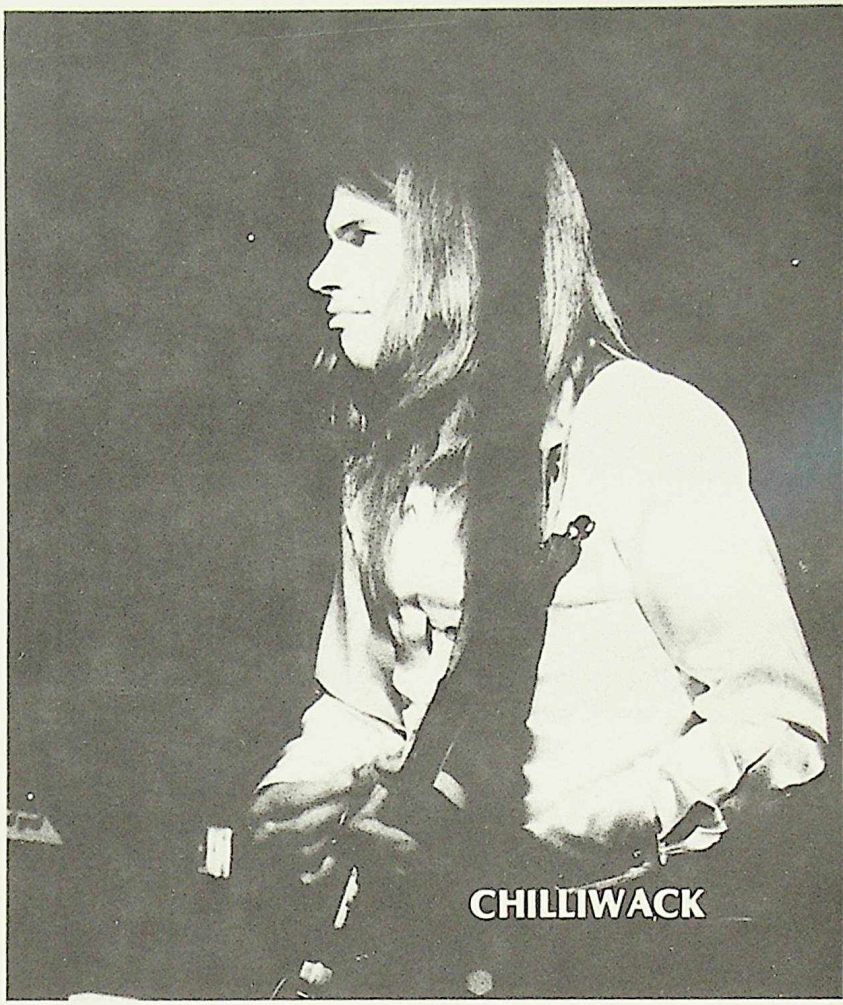


PRIVLEDGE

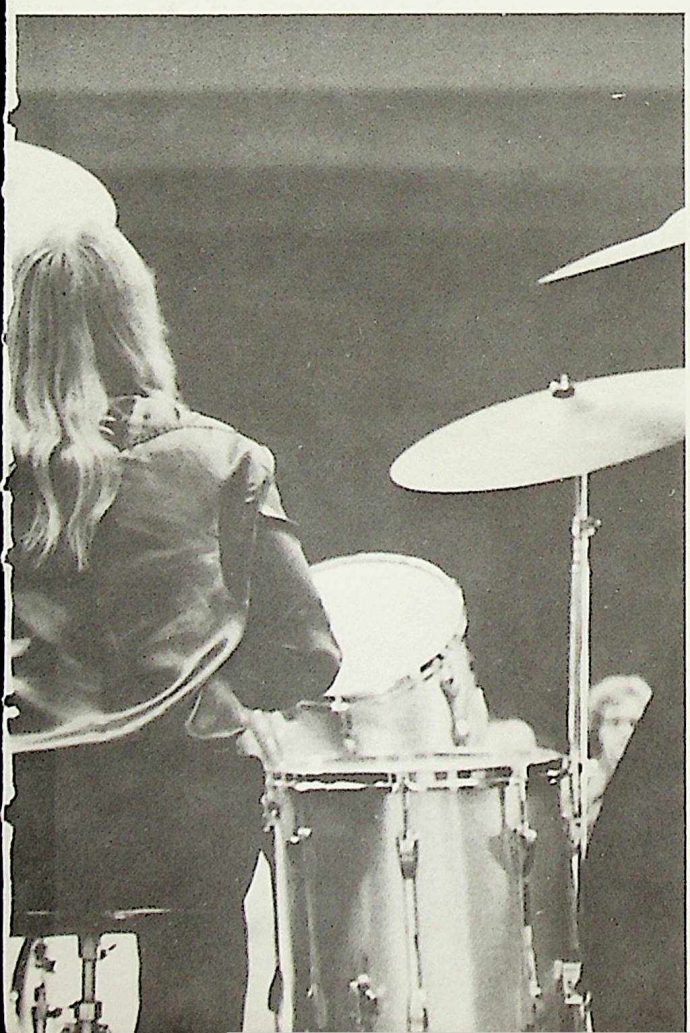


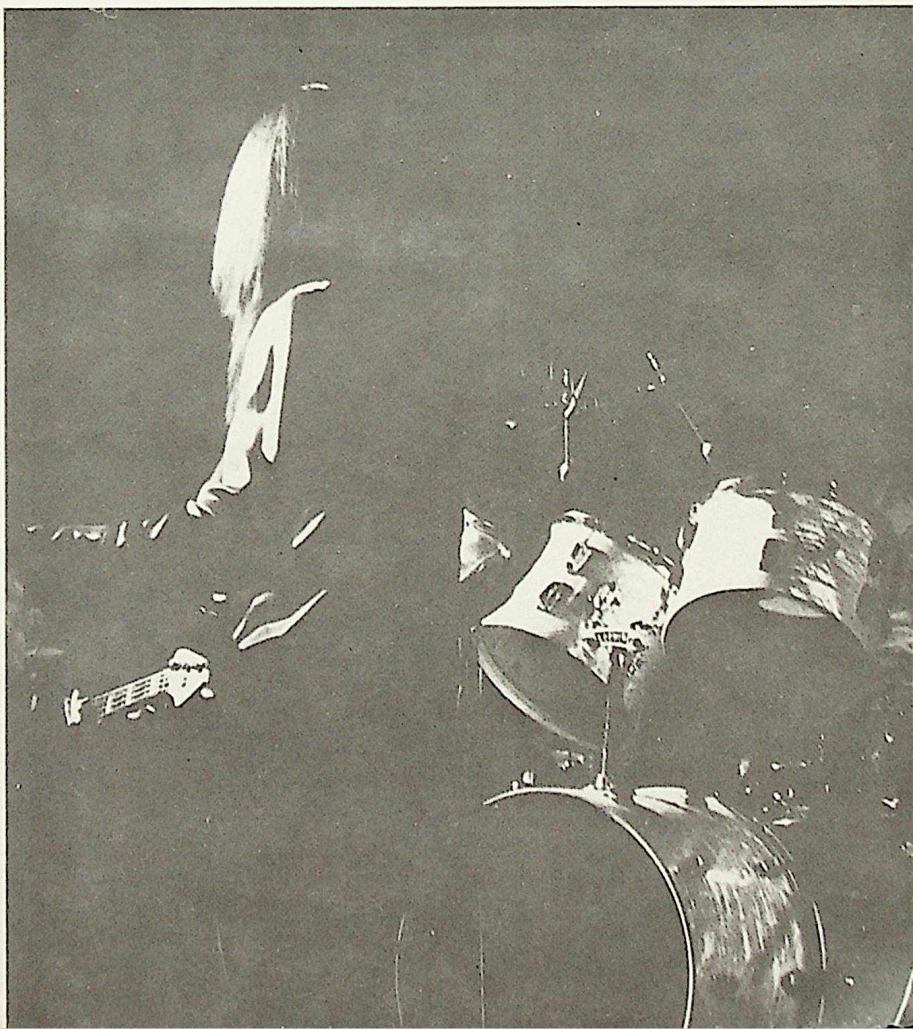


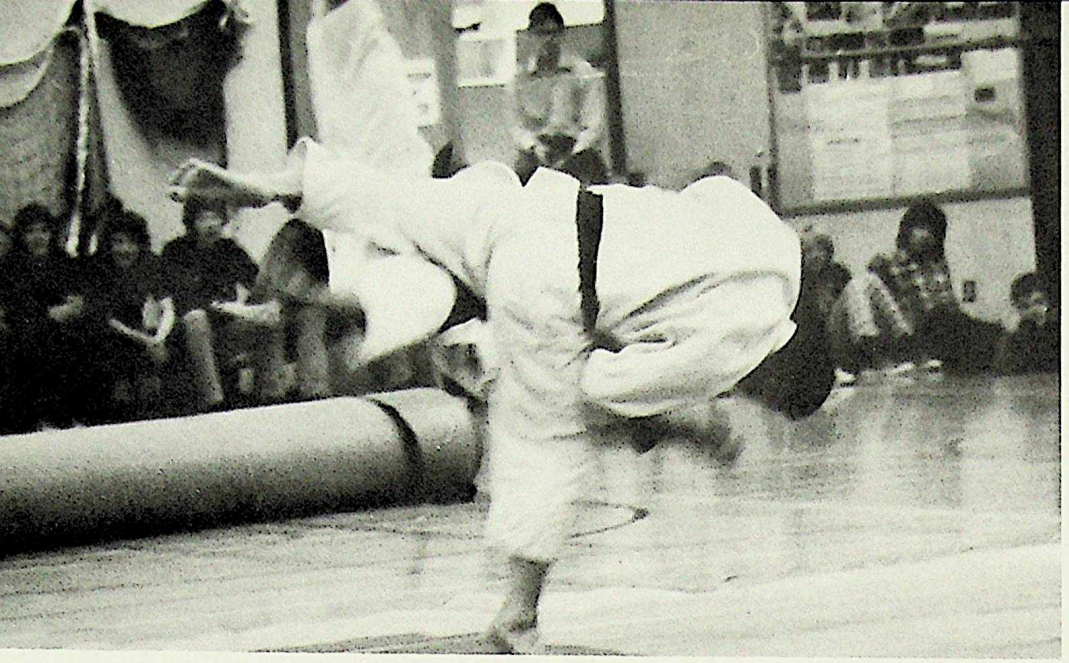


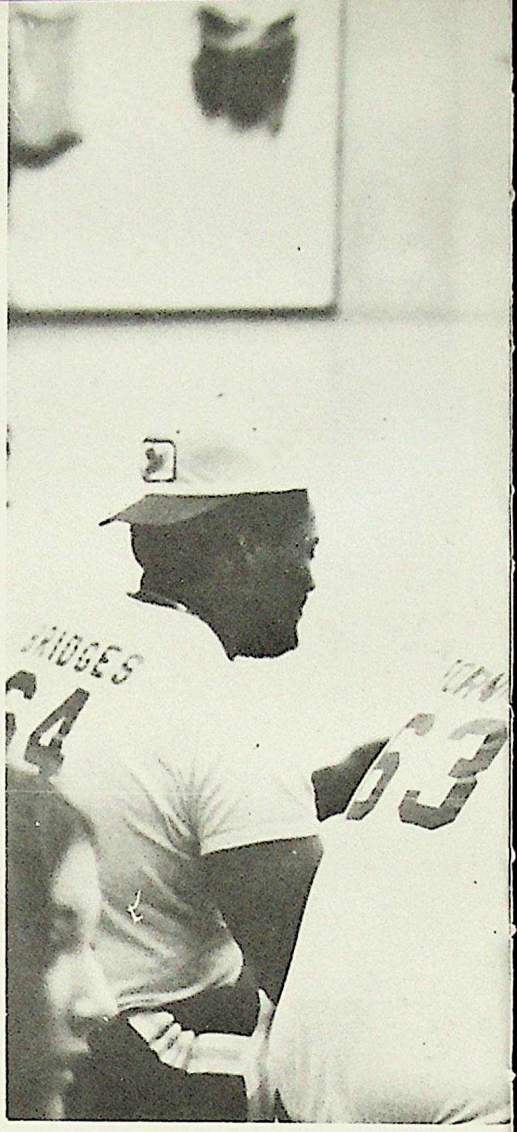


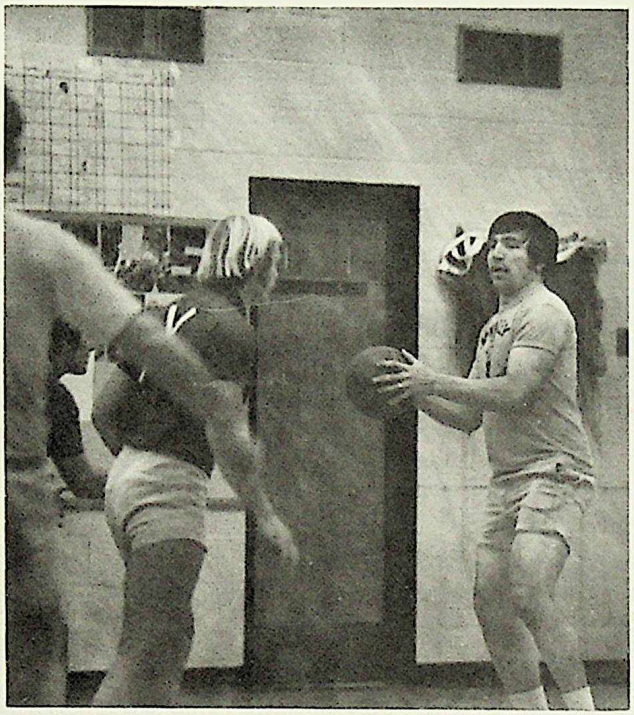
CHILLIWACK

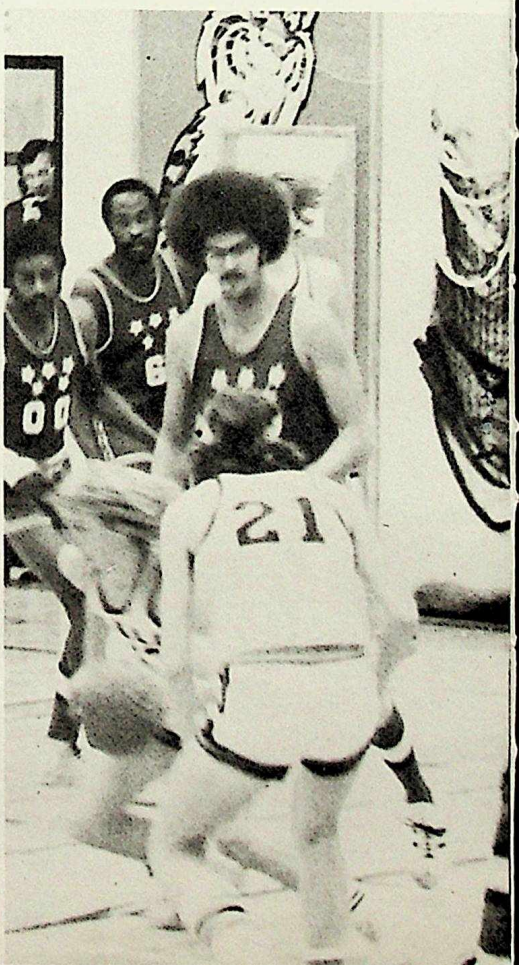




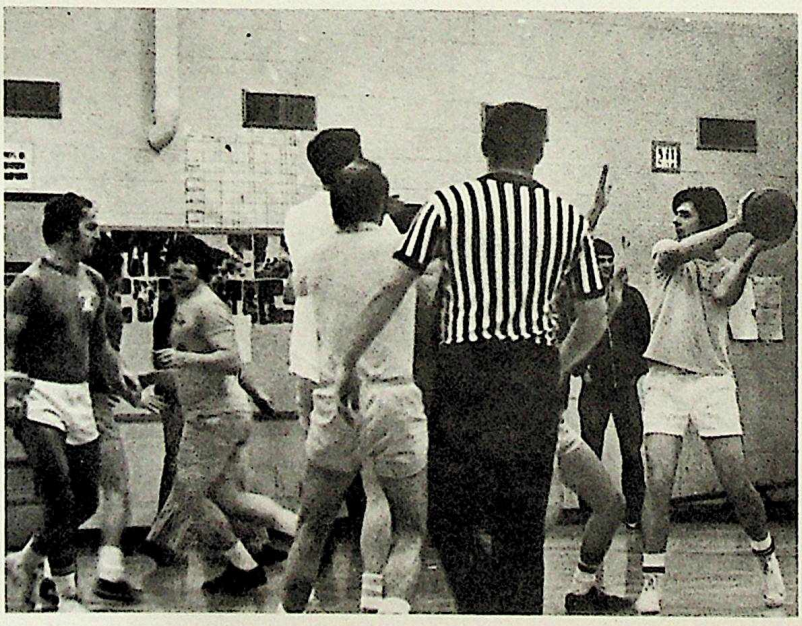


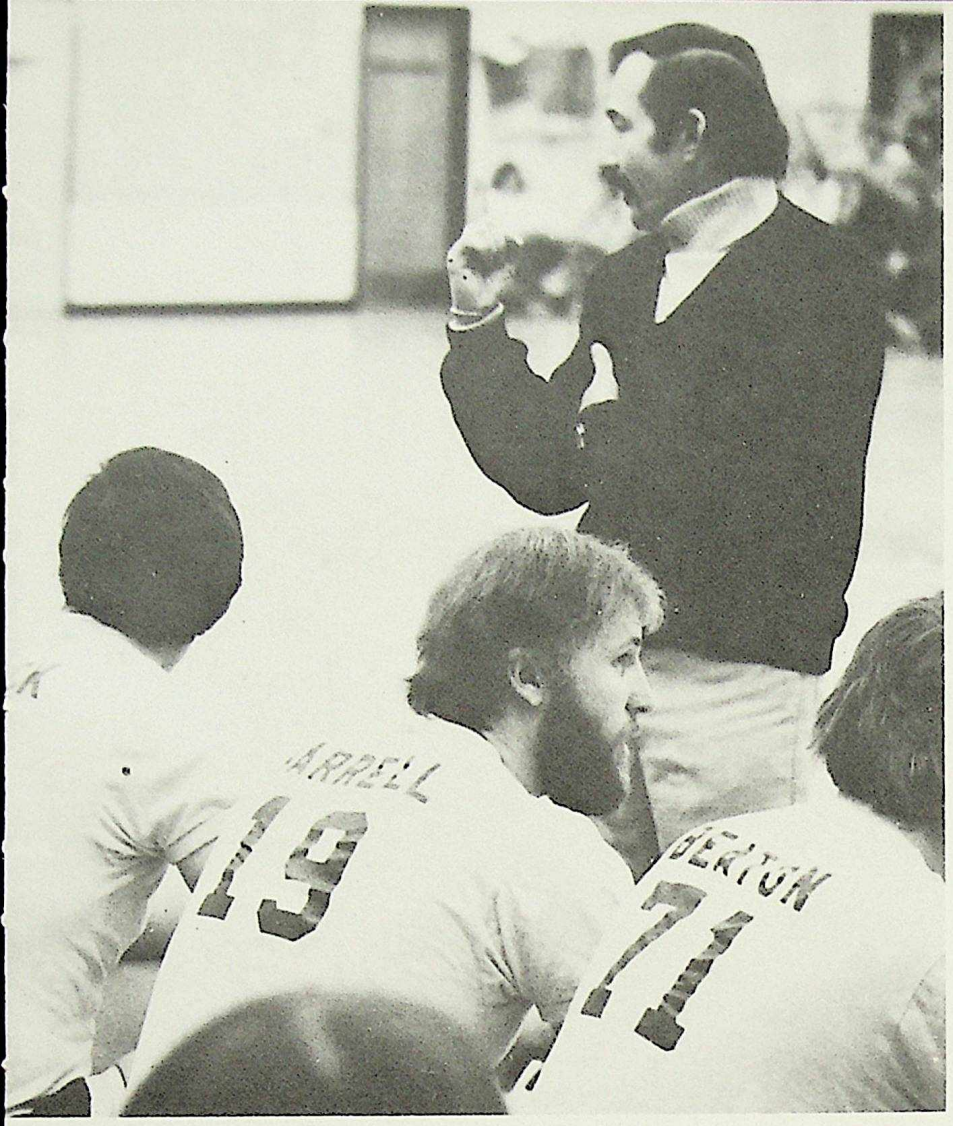






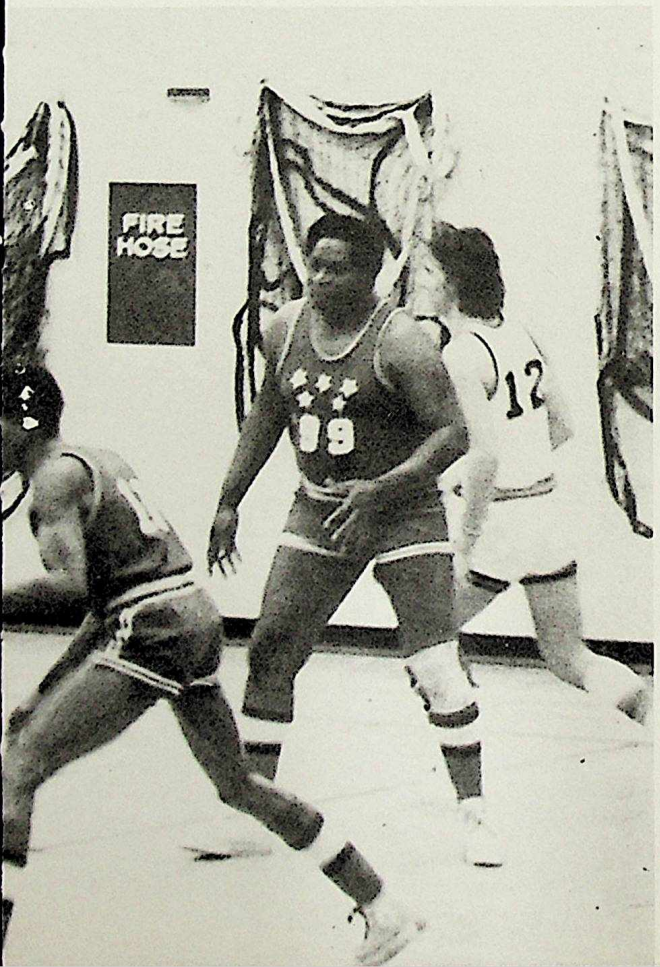
The game plan goes like this . . .



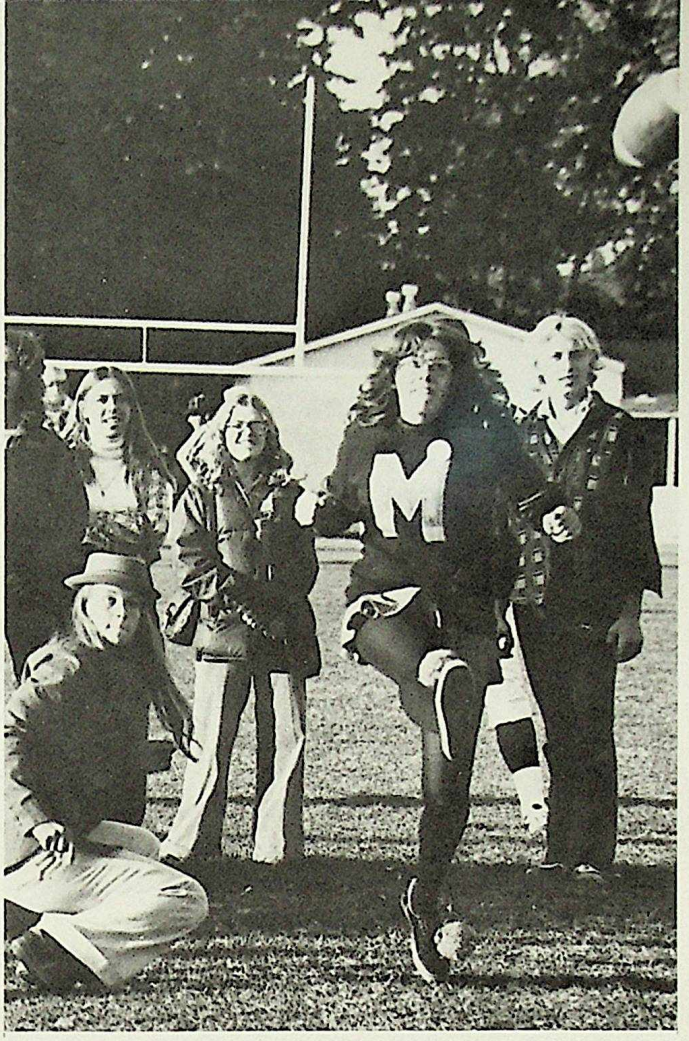


Visiting Sports

Over the years McNally has had many visiting sports teams play here and our tenth year was no exception. Early in the year Karate was demonstrated. Then in December the Senior Boys played host to the Harlem Clowns. As always, the clowns provided an enjoyable evening as they combined showmanship with comedy. The Bonnie Doon teachers came to play basketball as did the city police and the Eskimos, with their respective teams.



Senior Cheerleaders



People often say — "What you put into something well, that's what you get out of it." Our Senior Cheerleaders gave it all they had this year.

Through determination and enthusiasm, they captured the C.A.P.H.E.R. Tournament once again and brought the banner back home to McNally!

In February they were invited to Red Deer to compete against rural cheerleaders. Once again our girls returned home victorious.

But without fan support, winning would have been meaningless, and without a team like the TIGERS — There would be no one to cheer for.

So another year has come and gone, but as we glance back, we find that behind them is a year of pleasurable memories and unforgettable experiences . . .

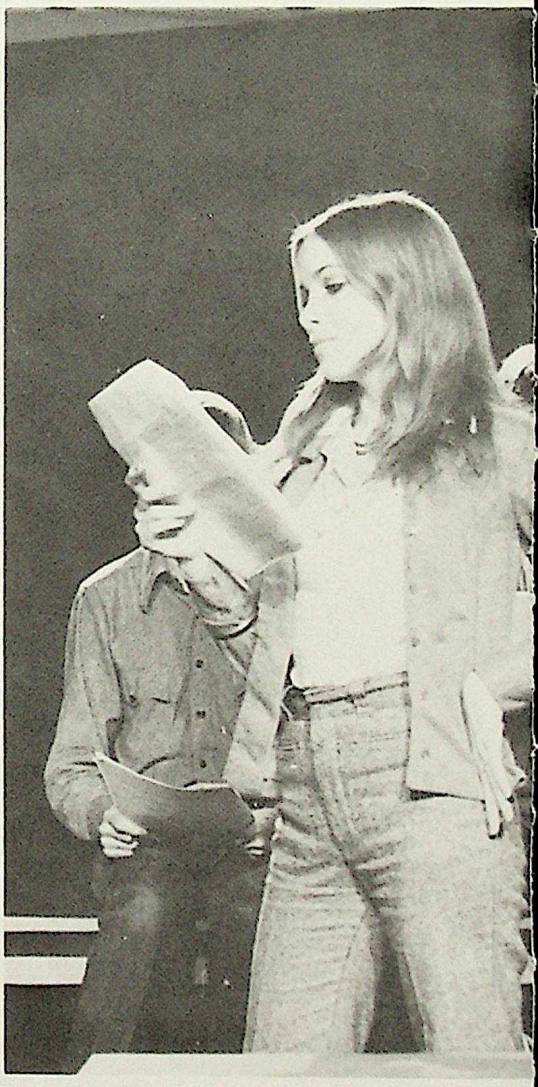
Drama Dept.

October 23-25, 1974. "The Happy Journey".

Audition for "The Real Inspector Hound."

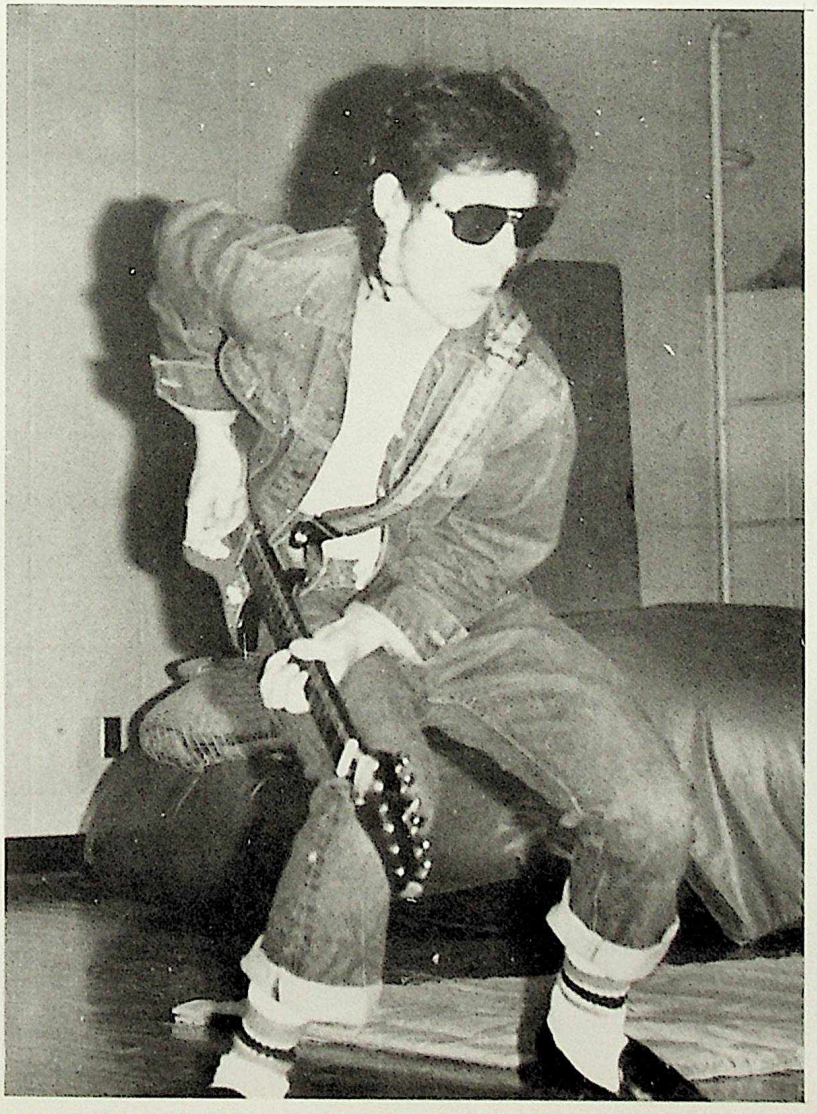


and "The Doctor in Spite of Himself."

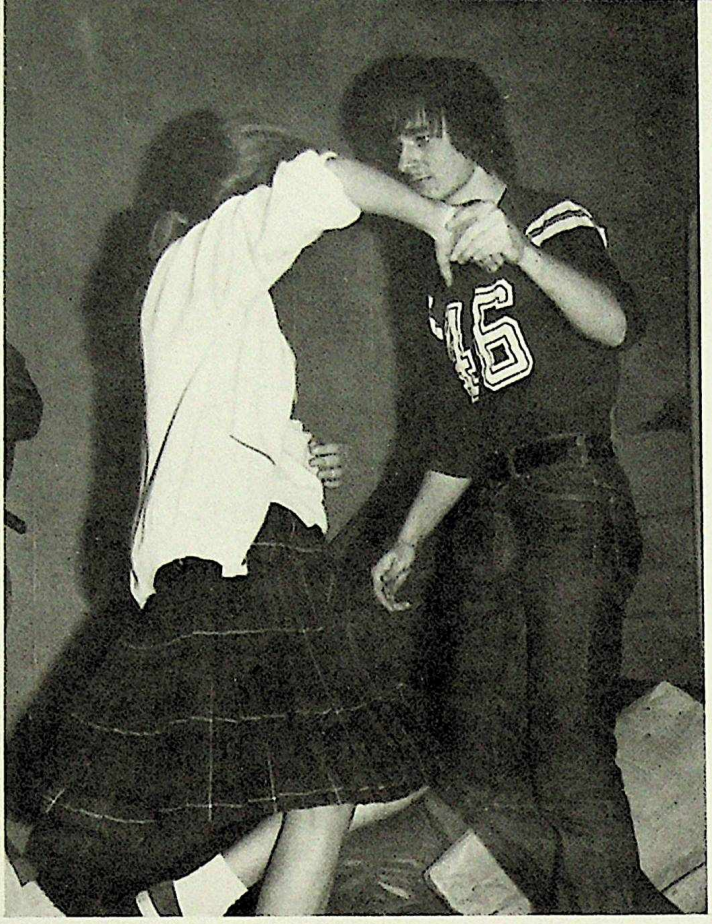
In February, Drama 30 students presented "The Weaker Sex", several scenes depicting anything but, as a salute to International Women's Year, 1975. As with all previous productions it played to a packed house. This was also the year that the back stage area received a coat of plack paint, with the club, and Drama 30 students in the role of house painters. Coming up in the month of April will be "The Real Inspector Hound," a fantastic end to a successful year.

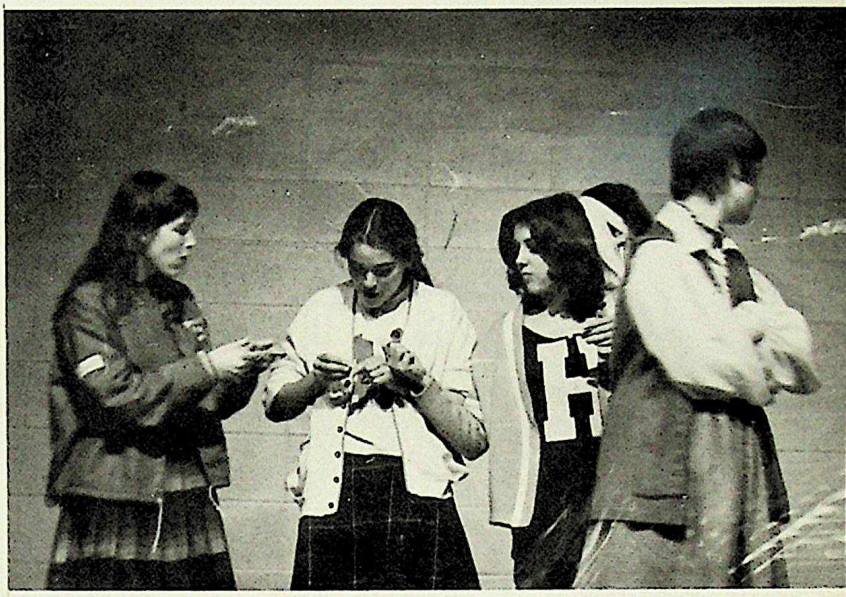
Grease Days

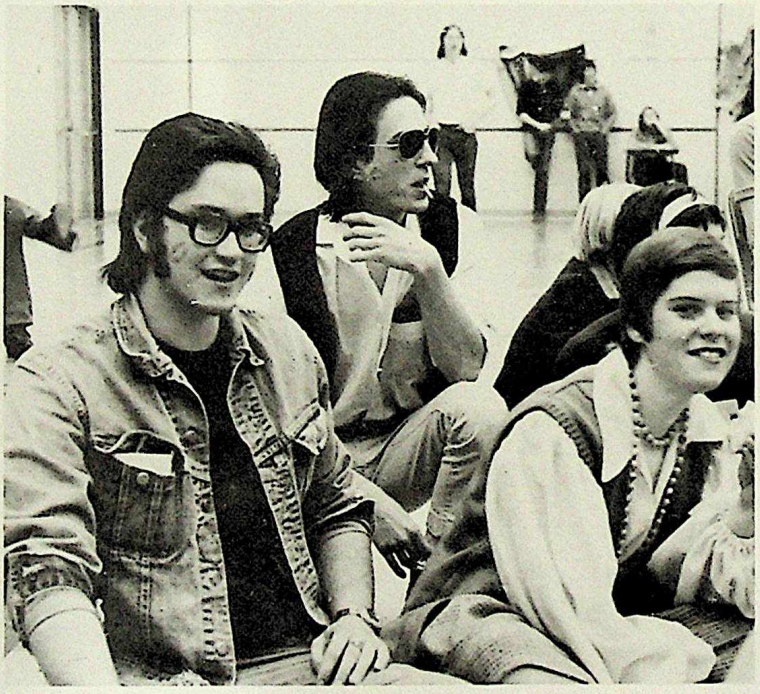
Just ten short years ago the kids actually dressed like this to go to school. Can you believe it? Well, if you were at McNally February 13 and 14, you saw it all. Grease activities started that Thursday at noon with a soc hop by Androu Flanders. Friday noon saw the real McCoy greasers out in full force as jiving, bubble-gum-blowing, and even an imitate Elvis contest got going. A boss time was had bv all the guys and gals, who later boogied and rocked their way around the clock that night at the sweethearts Grease Dance.



Hey, isn't that Elvis?

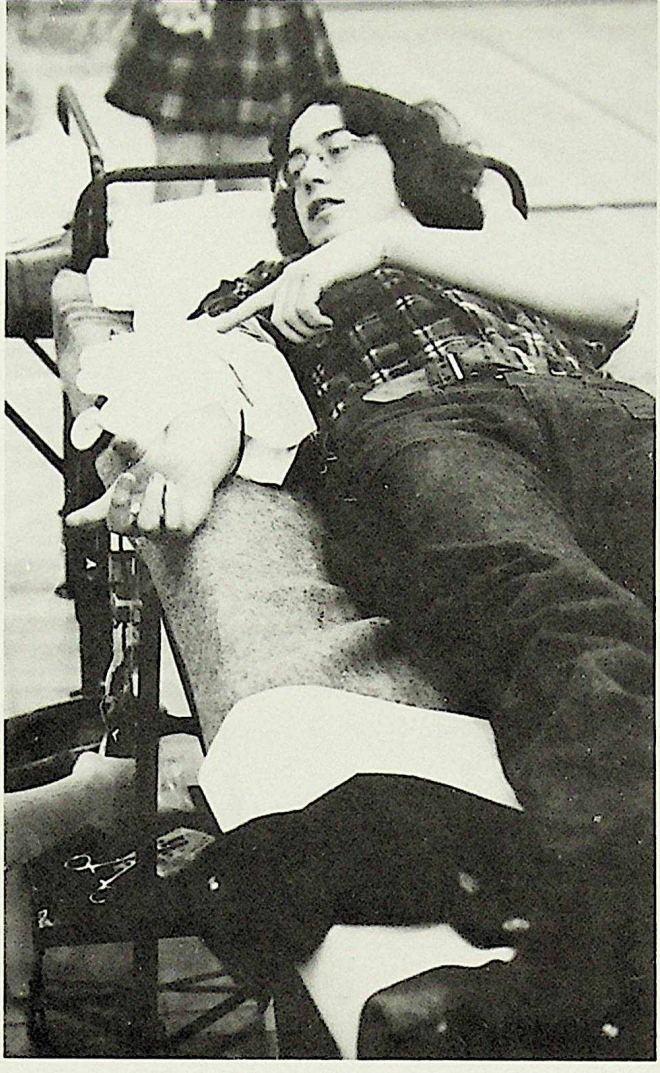


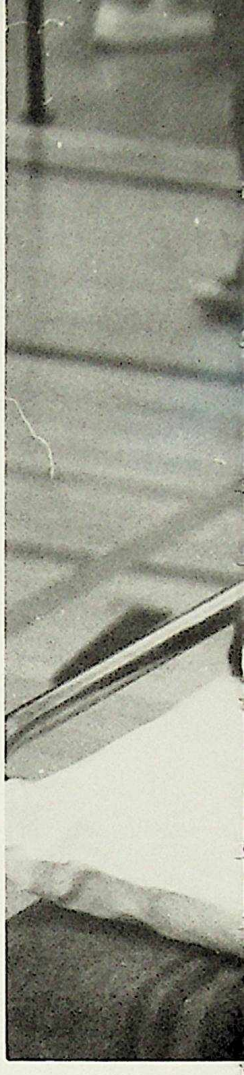




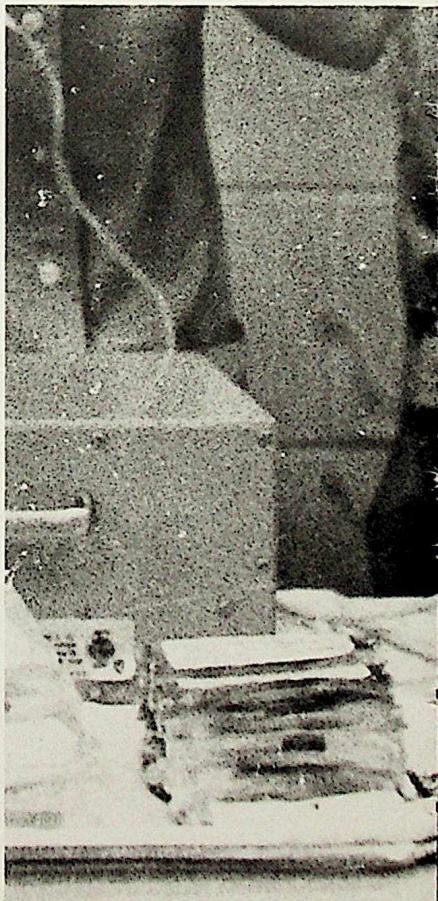
The jivers tried some pretty slick moves along with their slicked down hair. The bubble gum chewers tried to look cool as their jaws stuck together. But above all, almost every one tried to look "grease", and that's why it was a success.

Blood Donor Clinic



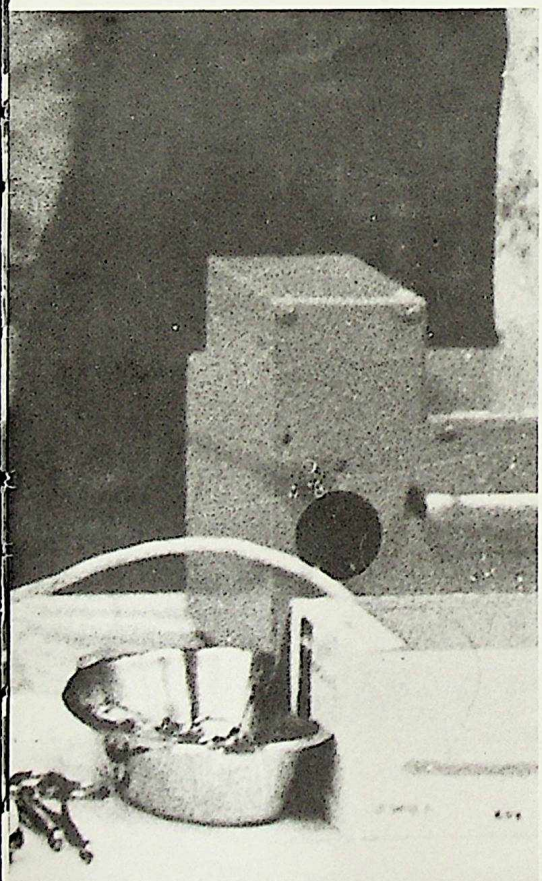


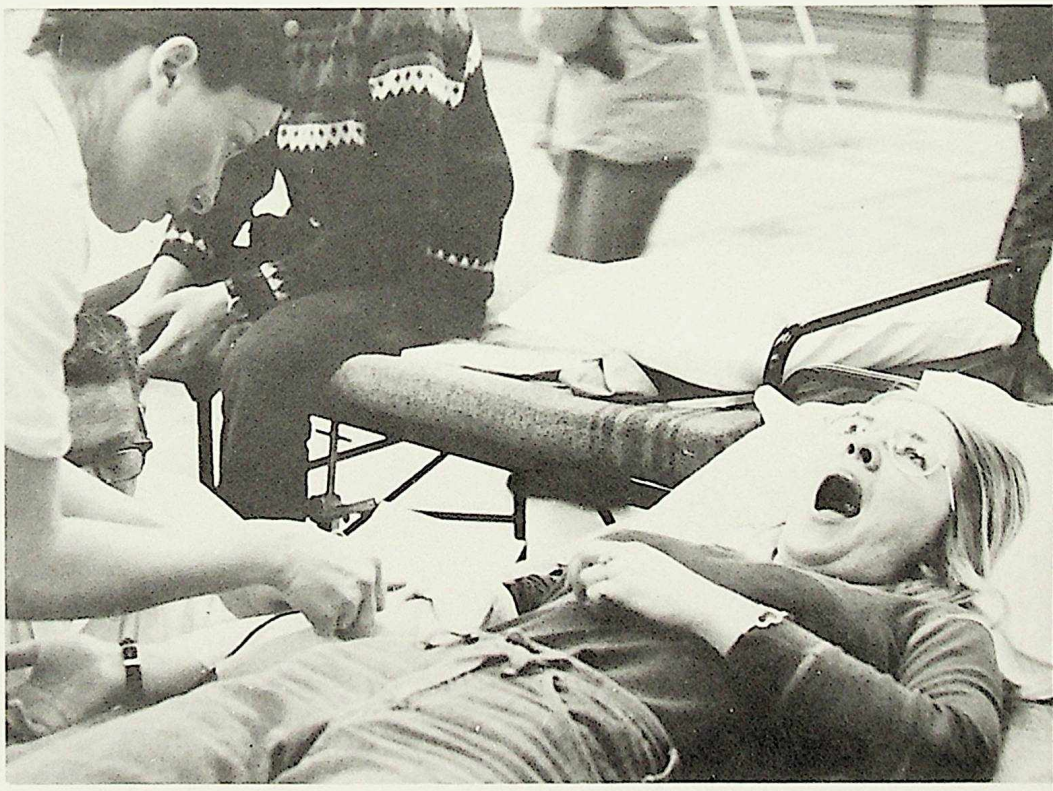
Did you give so more will live? These did. McNally's tenth year saw the donation of sixty pints of blood. Nice going.



Now this won't hurt a bit.

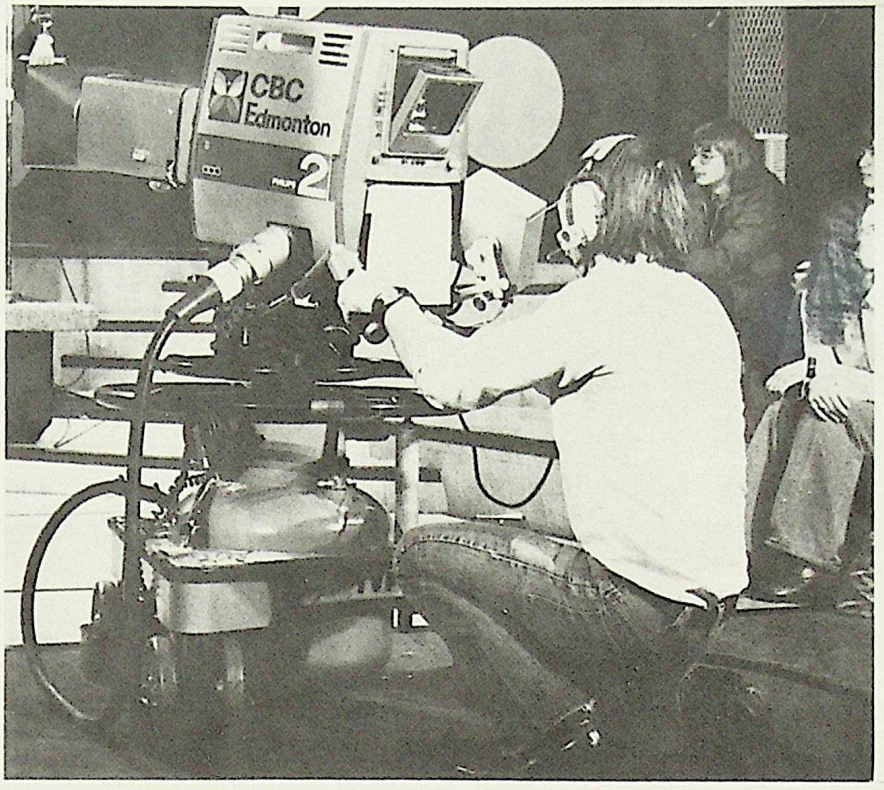
Teachers who give blood are all heart.

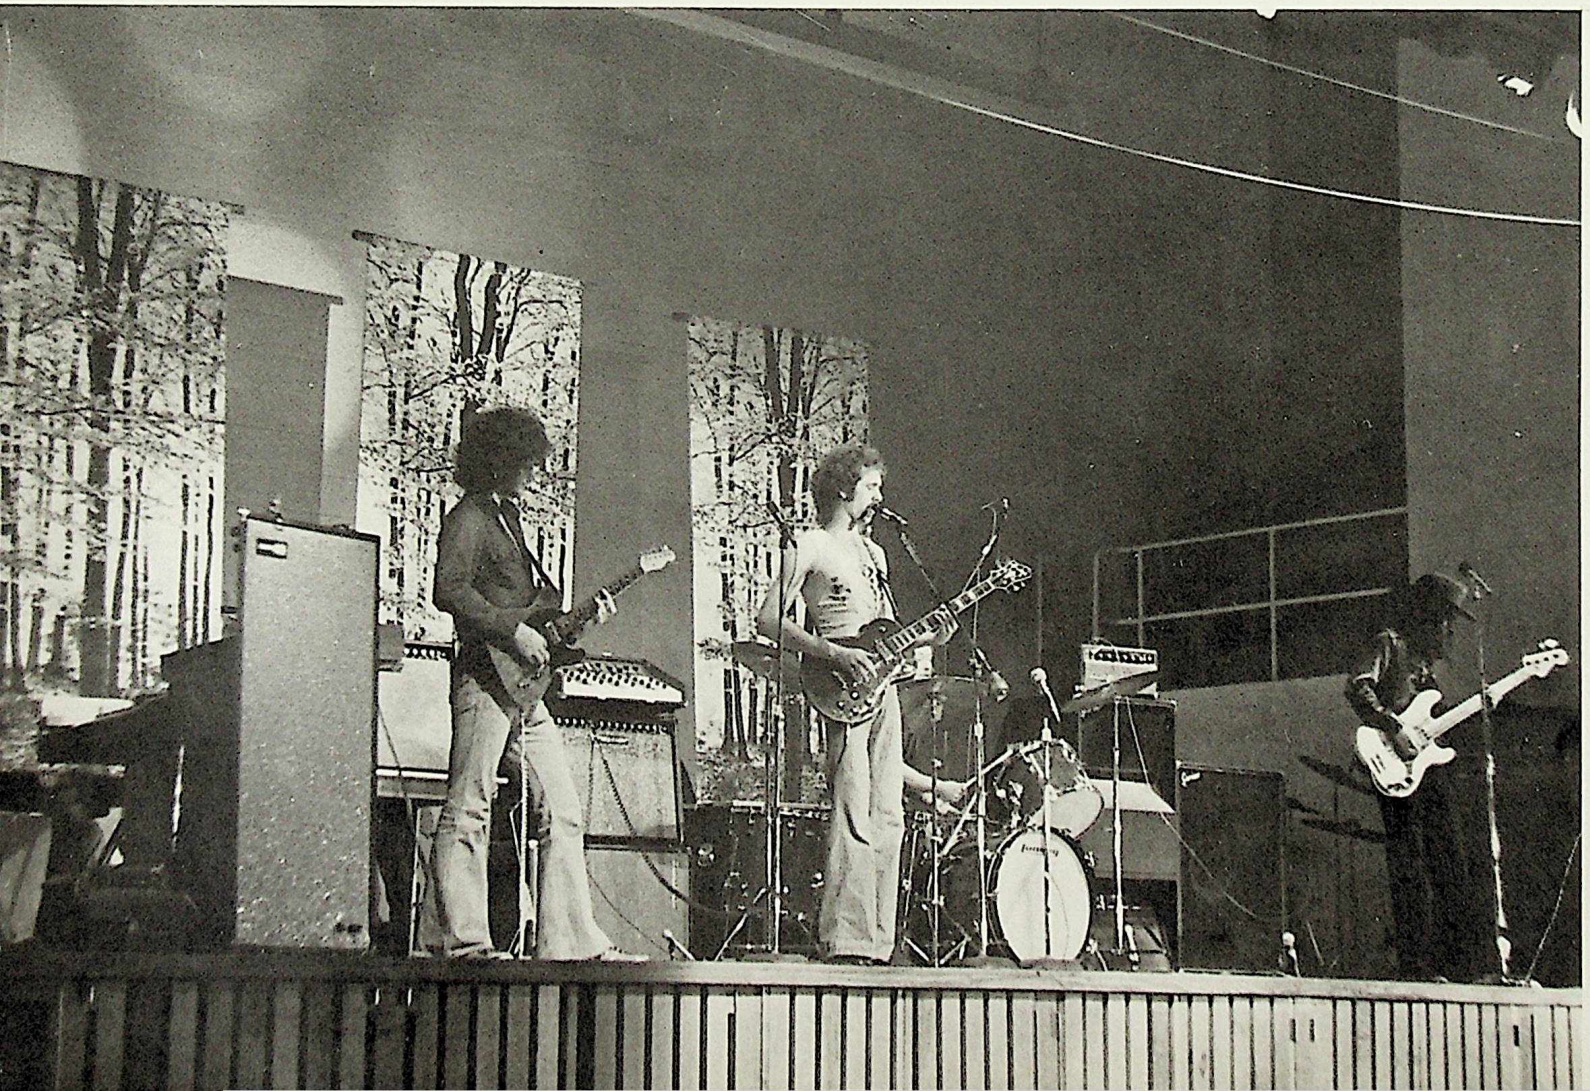


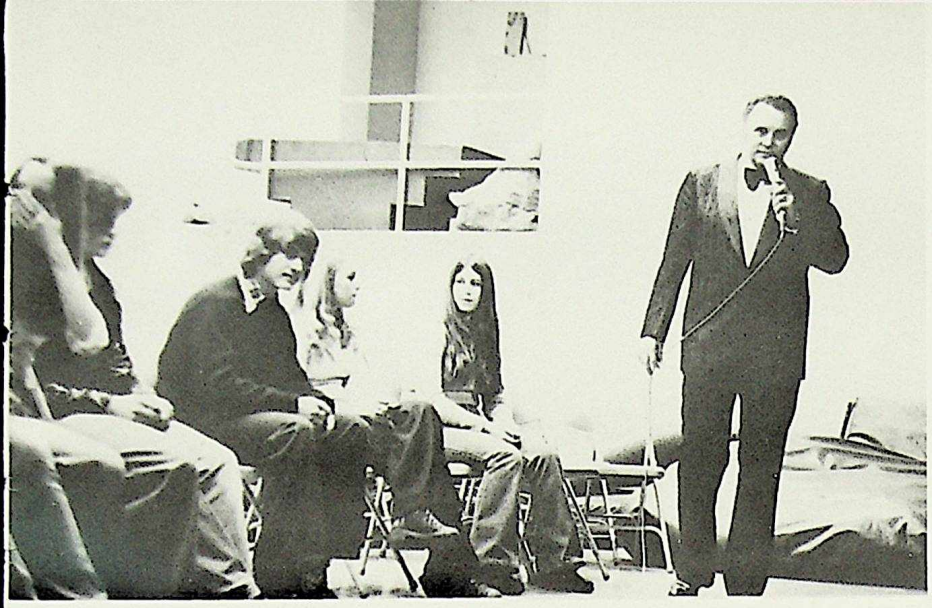


Oh yeahh!

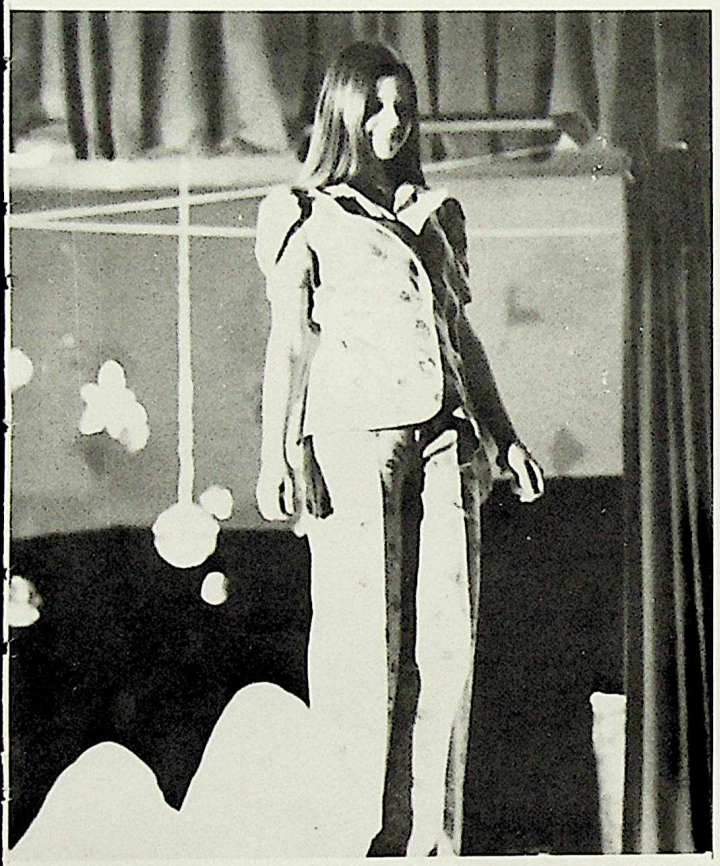
SPECIAL EVENTS







Come on, you can do it . . .



In Oct. Capital cable T.V. taped a rock concert featuring two super bands in the small gym. Dec. saw the Fab. 30 students present their annual fashion show. Then in Jan. the C B C brought its equipment to the drama room and taped the "New Class" show. During one winter noon hour, some of the teachers gave us their views on religion. In Feb. Byron the hypnotist Benson put on a fine performance for a capacity McNally audience. All tenth year events were well received and appreciated by the students.

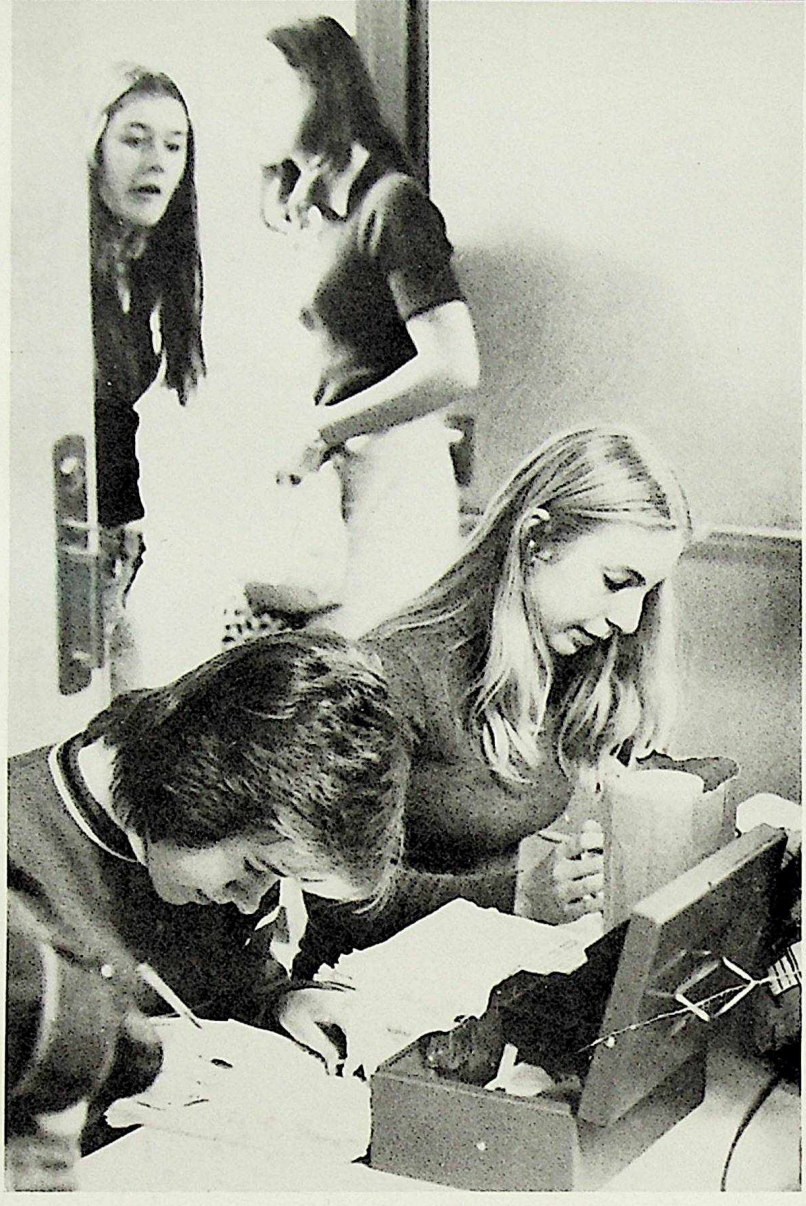
Missing: Billy Munro (Gr. 12 Rep.-SemI), Laura Watson (Social Convener - Sem. I), Mr. McWilliam (Advisor).



STUDENTS' UNION

This year was brought to me, as well as the majority of my fellow students, numerous experiences, both new and old. As president this past year, I've really learnt to appreciate people. I encountered many awkward circumstances and situations, but with the aid of my advisor and executive, I came out alive — uninjured!

Dances and soc-hops played a big part in the past 10th year and a radio show was established by a group of students. McNally did its share in athletics and ended the season with Alumni Night, a successful event with great participation. The 40-hour starvathon was held with 10 students bombarding MacDonalds at its completion.

I was very disappointed and discontented with the apathetic atmosphere that seems to be evident at McNally.

"You cannot lead by hitting people over the head — that's assault, not leadership!!"

To all students, I wish the best of luck in their endeavours, and this small bit of advice — SMILE!!!

YEARBOOK STAFF

Producing a yearbook at the best of times is a frustrating, demanding experience. At the worst of times it's genuine agony. We never seem to strike a balance between the two, and this year was no exception. It is a tribute to the students pictured on this page that this year's Trend was even published. They worked tirelessly for weeks — including the entire Easter Vacation — editing, writing, sorting, arranging, cropping, proofreading, and finalizing the edition which you now hold. On top of that, they did it independently of my own assistance and supervision — which is a first for a McNally Yearbook Staff. I am proud of them and wish to complement them on their fine effort.

ALUMNI NIGHT

Alumni Night was even more special this year because 1975 was McNally's tenth anniversary. Grads from all previous years were in attendance. These "oldies but goodies" cheered their way through the game, which saw the Alumni victorious over the Senior Boys. Later, everyone had a chance to socialize and renew acquaintances in the small gym. The appropriate decorations and refereshments set the mood, contributing to the most successful Alumni Night ever.

GRAD COUNCIL

Elected in October, the Grad Council got right to work raising funds and planning for the big day. In November we took care of the Sadie Hawkins coat check, which proved to be an unforgettable experience for us all. December was a busy month, with candy sales and preparations for the Christmas Breakfast taking up most of the time. The results of our efforts are on pages 52 and 53. Alumni Night saw the Council decorate and later serve in the small gym during the social hour following the game. That same day we sold McNally buttons featuring our chosen design, which were eagerly purchased by old Alumni as well as current students alike. This year's Grad theme is "The Way We Were" and it all happens on June 7, at the Chateau Lacombe. Certainly it will be one to remember.

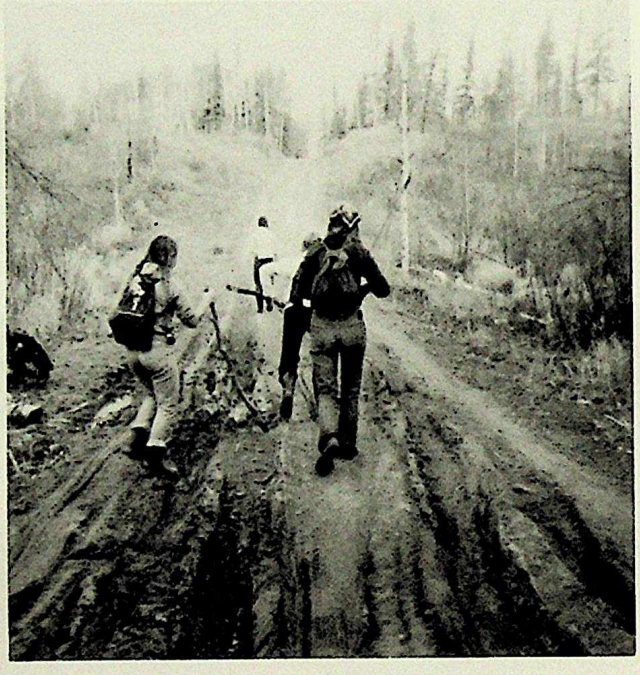
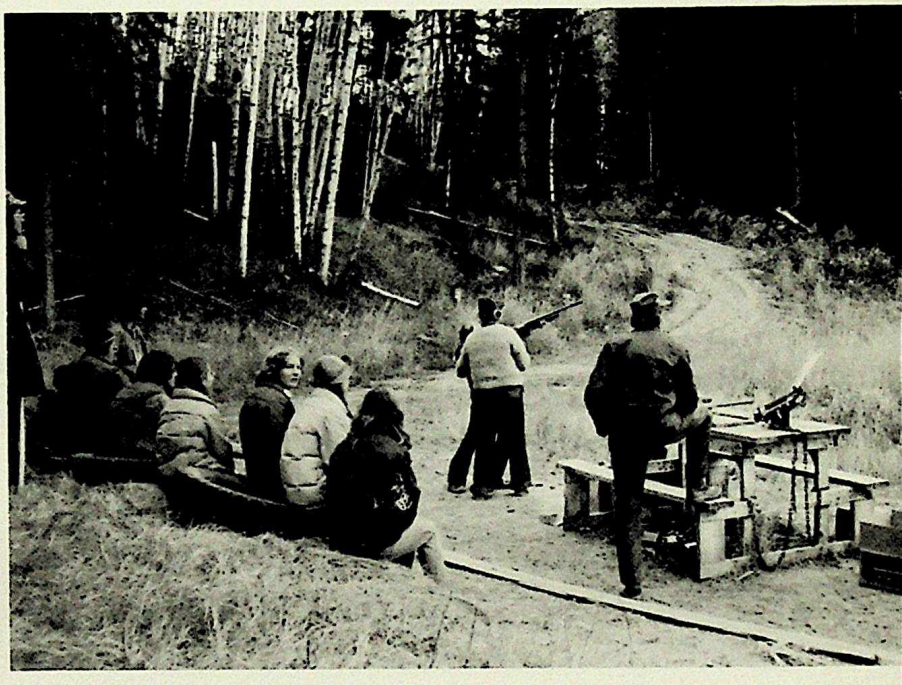
PHYS. ED.

The Phys. Ed. 30 students, especially those of semester one, had a most enjoyable and rewarding year. They had such a good time at the camp out, as a matter of fact, that this will be the last such excursion of its kind for quite some time.





In addition to the camping experience, they also went curling; and since the classes are co ed, social dance was another activity that made this course the one not to forget.

I Am a Canadian

I am a Canadian:
pensioner from the west coast,
business man from the east.

I've crossed the prairies:
wheat field after wheat field,
hours upon hours of backbreaking chores.

I've climbed the mountains:
through the height of the wilderness,
and the cool, fresh, springs.

I've given aide to a stranger:
through a bustling, bubbling city,
down a dusty, abandoned road.

I've given aide to my country:
fighting across the waters,
or standing up for ideals.

I am a Canadian:
pensioner from the west coast
businessman from the east.

From the Heart

Within a little silent place
A golden sparkle glows,
It flickers bright, then into light,
And warms all those it knows.
But deep inside,
This golden spark is really quite alone
Sometimes shy,
Somtimes scared,
Dares not to dance but moan
But if it finds the smallest ember
To set if off aglow
This little spark becomes the flame
That warms from head to toe.

We sincerely thank these businesses and merchants without whose support the success of this publication would not be possible.

The Trend Staff

Although the making of the '75 TREND was, to say the least, frustrating, it proved to be an experience that none of the yearbook staff will soon forget. I would like to thank everyone who worked on the '75 TREND, and a special thanks to Mr. Johnson, without whom none of this would have been possible.
